EXIN Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Sample Questions (Q74-Q79):

NEW QUESTION # 74

Do I need to check the local standards if I already comply to international standards?

- A. Compliance to only international standards is good enough as most local standards are derived from international standards.
- B. You need to check the local standards to ensure compliance to these standards.
- C. Local standards do not to be checked as some countries have too many local standards, which will slow down the data centre construction.
- D. Data centres only need to comply to international standards since they are connected to a worldwide international network infrastructure.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Data centre design and infrastructure standards can vary from country to country, depending on the local regulations, codes, and practices. Therefore, it is important to check the local standards before designing, building, or operating a data centre in a specific location. Compliance to only international standards may not be sufficient or adequate to meet the local requirements, which could result in legal, financial, or operational risks. For example, some countries may have stricter fire safety, environmental, or energy efficiency standards than the international ones. Some countries may also have different electrical standards, such as voltage, frequency, or plug types. By checking the local standards, you can ensure that your data centre is compliant, safe, and efficient in the local context.

NEW QUESTION # 75

Which type of Humidifier rapidly vibrates water to create a fog or mist?

- A. Water Canister Humidifier
- B. Infrared Humidifier
- C. Ultrasonic Humidifier
- D. Steam Canister Humidifier

Answer: C

Explanation:

An ultrasonic humidifier is a type of cool mist humidifier that uses a metallic diaphragm that vibrates at high frequencies to create water droplets that are added to the air. A fan projects these droplets into the air as mist, which then evaporates and humidifies the room. This type of humidifier rapidly vibrates the water to create a fog or mist.

NEW QUESTION # 76

Which formula can be used to define risk?

- A. Risk = Time * Quality
- B. Risk = Probability * Cost
- C. Risk = Security * Criminality
- D. Risk = Impact * Probability

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to the CDCP Preparation Guide¹, risk can be defined as the product of impact and probability.

Impact is the measure of the negative consequences or losses that may result from a risk event, such as downtime, data loss, or damage to the data centre. Probability is the measure of the likelihood or frequency of a risk event occurring, based on historical data, expert judgment, or statistical analysis. By multiplying impact and probability, risk can be quantified and compared, which helps in prioritizing and mitigating the risks. For example, a risk event that has a high impact but a low probability may have the same risk level as a risk event that has a low impact but a high probability.

NEW QUESTION # 77

The UPS vendor is offering the latest model of their UPS to you. The vendor indicates that the UPS is categorized as VFD class. Is this UPS a fit for your mission-critical data centre?

- A. Yes
- B. Yes, but only if they install it with a 12-pulse rectifier.
- C. Yes, but only if you oversize the battery bank with 10%.
- D. No

Answer: D

Explanation:

A UPS (uninterruptible power supply) that is categorized as VFD class is not a fit for your mission-critical data centre, because it does not provide adequate protection against voltage and frequency variations. VFD stands for Voltage and Frequency Dependent, which means that the output voltage and frequency of the UPS depend on the input voltage and frequency. VFD UPSs are also known as offline, standby, or line-interactive UPSs. They typically switch to battery power only when the input power fails or goes beyond a certain threshold. However, this switching may cause a brief interruption or a transient in the output power, which can affect the performance and reliability of the ICT equipment. Moreover, VFD UPSs do not filter or regulate the input power, which means that they pass on any voltage or frequency fluctuations, harmonics, or noise to the output power. These power quality issues can also damage or degrade the ICT equipment and the data.

For your mission-critical data centre, you need a UPS that is categorized as VFI class, which stands for Voltage and Frequency Independent. VFI UPSs are also known as online, continuous, or double-conversion UPSs. They provide a constant and clean output power that is independent of the input power. VFI UPSs convert the input AC power to DC power, and then convert it back to AC power with the desired voltage and frequency. This double conversion process isolates the output power from the input power, and eliminates any power quality issues. VFI UPSs also have zero switching time, which means that they do not cause any interruption or transient in the output power when switching to battery power. VFI UPSs are designed to protect the ICT equipment and the data from any adverse effects of voltage and frequency variations, and to ensure the highest level of availability and reliability.

NEW QUESTION # 78

Measuring "Business Values" begins first with.

- A. Network
- B. Topology
- C. Budget
- D. Physical Infrastructure

Answer: C
