AACN Critical Care Nursing Exam Sample Questions (Q16-Q21):

NEW QUESTION # 16

An adolescent with recurrent leukemia expresses a desire to die peacefully. Weeks later, the patient is critically ill and the parents ask whether to escalate care. The nurse's most appropriate response is:

- A. "As I remember, your child expressed a desire to die peacefully."
- B. "I will support whatever decision you decide upon."
- C. "Legally you have the right to make that decision."
- D. "Perhaps try one more day of treatment to see if there are any changes in condition."

Answer: B

Explanation:

This situation represents a conflict between adolescent autonomy and parental authority. The nurse must maintain an nonjudgmental, supportive role, allowing the family to explore values and make informed decisions without imposing interpretation.

"In end-of-life situations, nurses should offer emotional support, facilitate shared decision-making, and respect family values.

Supporting the decision-regardless of direction-is key." (Referenced from CCRN Pediatric - Professional Caring and Ethical Practice: End-of-Life Ethics and Family- Centered Care)

NEW QUESTION # 17

Which of the following is the correct way of instilling eardrops among children below 3 years old:

- A. Apply medicated ear wicks, then instill the eardrops
- B. Pull the pinna up and back to straighten the ear canal
- C. Pull the pinna down and back to straighten the ear canal
- D. Cleanse the ear canal trough pulling the pinna outward

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation: Canal should be straighten by pulling it down and back so that the eardrops will reach the eardrum. This approach is applicable to children below 3 years old because their ear canal curves upward.

NEW QUESTION # 18

The relationship between the family of a long-term patient and ICU healthcare providers has become strained. A nurse should first:

- A. Rotate assignments among staff members
- B. Suggest the family discuss their concerns with the nurse manager
- C. Discuss the issue with the physician
- D. Arrange a patient care conference with the family

Answer: D

Explanation:

When communication and relationships become strained, the most appropriate first action is to initiate a care conference. This collaborative approach provides a forum for the family and healthcare team to align goals, express concerns, and rebuild trust through structured, clear communication.

"Care conferences serve as a critical strategy to address and resolve family-staff conflict, particularly in long- term ICU stays where emotional fatigue and communication breakdowns are common." (Referenced from CCRN Pediatric - Professional Caring and Ethical Practice: Family-Centered Communication and Collaboration)

NEW QUESTION # 19

When assessing the fluid and electrolyte balance in an infant, which of the following would be important to remember:

- A. Infant has greater body surface area than adults
- B. Infant can concentrate urine at an adult level
- C. Infants have more intracellular water than adults do
- D. The metabolic rate of an infant is slower than in adults

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation: Infants have greater body surface area than adult, increasing their risk to F&E imbalances.

Also infants can't concentrate a urine at an adult level and their metabolic rate, also called water turnover, is 2 to 3 times higher than adult. Plus more fluids of the infants are at the ECF spaces not in the ICF spaces.

NEW QUESTION # 20

When assessing a newborn with cleft lip, the nurse would be alert which of the following will most likely be compromised:

- A. GI function
- B. Respiratory status
- C. Sucking ability
- D. Locomotion

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation: Because of the defect, the child will be unable to form the mouth adequately around the nipple thereby requiring special devices to allow feeding and sucking gratification. Respiratory status may be compromised when the child is fed improperly or during post op period.
