NEW QUESTION # 128

The CFO has informed the programme board that the predicted increase in electricity and gas customer numbers is too optimistic. The BCM has produced new targets based on this new information. The programme manager has updated the target operating model to reflect this.

Is this an appropriate application of the 'align with priorities' principle, and why?

- A. Yes, because the programme manager is the producer of the target operating model
- B. Yes, because the target operating model should be revisited over time
- C. No, because this new information should be reflected in the benefit profile
- D. No, because this new information should be reflected in the benefits map

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed 200 to 250 words of Explanation From Exact Extract of project- programme-and-portfolio-management of 5th Edition MSP:

The principle of 'Align with priorities' in MSP 5th Edition dictates that a programme must remain consistent with the strategic direction of the organization, which is often subject to change due to internal or external factors. This principle ensures that the programme continues to deliver value and remains viable throughout its lifecycle. A critical component of this alignment is the Target Operating Model (TOM), which describes the future state of the organization once the programme's outcomes are embedded. In this scenario, the CFO provides updated financial and market realities suggesting that previous growth targets were unrealistic. By updating the target operating model, the Programme Manager is ensuring that the vision of the "future state" remains realistic and aligned with the revised organizational priorities.

According to MSP guidance, the TOM is not a static document created at the start and then shelved; it must be refined as the programme progresses and as the corporate context evolves. Option A is correct because it acknowledges the iterative nature of the TOM. While benefits (Options C and D) will certainly be affected, the question asks about the application of the principle to the TOM update. Ensuring the TOM reflects current strategic reality is a primary way to maintain alignment with organizational priorities, preventing the programme from delivering a future state that the business no longer desires or cannot sustain.

NEW QUESTION # 130

Which of the following will not be in Issue register?

- A. Date issue was raised
- B. Description of issue
- C. How issues will be identified, captured and assessed
- D. Categorization of issue

Answer: C

Explanation:

The process of how issues will be identified, captured, and assessed is not recorded in the Issue Register itself but is instead documented in the Issue Management Strategy.

The MSP Practitioner clarifies: "How to deal with issue is identified in issue management strategy," meaning the register contains actual issues with details such as date raised, description, and categorization but not the procedural approach.

This distinction ensures that the register remains a real-time log of current issues while the management strategy defines policies and processes for consistent issue handling across the programme.

Maintaining this separation improves clarity and operational efficiency in issue management.

NEW QUESTION # 131

In which MSP theme would you expect to find the POTI model?

- A. Planning and Control
- B. Vision
- C. Blueprint Design and Delivery
- D. Leadership and Stakeholder Engagement

Answer: C

Explanation:

The POTI (Projects, Operations, Teams, and Infrastructure) model is used to define the high-level scope of the Blueprint. The Blueprint theme encompasses the detailed design and delivery aspects of the programme's transformation. As per MSP Practitioner, "POTI defines high level scope of blueprint," situating the model firmly within the Blueprint Design and Delivery governance theme.
