IAPP Certified Information Privacy Professional/United States (CIPP/US) Sample Questions (Q55-Q60):

NEW QUESTION # 55

In 2012, the White House and the FTC both issued reports advocating a new approach to privacy enforcement that can best be described as what?

- A. Self-regulatory.
- B. Harm-based.
- C. Comprehensive.
- D. Notice and choice.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In 2012, the White House released a report titled "Consumer Data Privacy in a Networked World:

A Framework for Protecting Privacy and Promoting Innovation in the Global Digital Economy", which proposed a Consumer Privacy Bill of Rights based on the Fair Information Practice Principles (FIPPs). The report called for a comprehensive privacy framework that would apply to all commercial sectors and all personal data, regardless of the technology or business model involved. The report also urged Congress to enact legislation to implement the framework and empower the FTC to enforce it. Similarly, the FTC released a report titled "Protecting Consumer Privacy in an Era of Rapid Change:

Recommendations for Businesses and Policymakers", which outlined a set of best practices for businesses to protect consumer privacy and foster innovation. The report also advocated for a comprehensive privacy framework that would cover both online and offline data, and apply to all entities that collect or use consumer data that can be reasonably linked to a specific consumer, computer, or device. The report also recommended that Congress consider enacting baseline privacy legislation and giving the FTC rulemaking authority to implement it. Therefore, both reports can be described as advocating a comprehensive approach to privacy enforcement, rather than a harm- based, self-regulatory, or notice and choice approach.

NEW QUESTION # 56

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next QUESTION :

A US-based startup company is selling a new gaming application. One day, the CEO of the company receives an urgent letter from a prominent EU-based retail partner. Triggered by an unresolved complaint lodged by an EU resident, the letter describes an ongoing investigation by a supervisory authority into the retailer's data handling practices.

The complainant accuses the retailer of improperly disclosing her personal data, without consent, to parties in the United States. Further, the complainant accuses the EU-based retailer of failing to respond to her withdrawal of consent and request for erasure of her personal data. Your organization, the US-based startup company, was never informed of this request for erasure by the EU-based retail partner. The supervisory authority investigating the complaint has threatened the suspension of data flows if the parties involved do not cooperate with the investigation. The letter closes with an urgent request: "Please act immediately by identifying all personal data received from our company." This is an important partnership. Company executives know that its biggest fans come from Western Europe; and this retailer is primarily responsible for the startup's rapid market penetration.

As the Company's data privacy leader, you are sensitive to the criticality of the relationship with the retailer.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), how would the U.S.-based startup company most likely be classified?

- A. As a data processor
- B. As a data manager
- C. As a data controller
- D. As a data supervisor

Answer: A

Explanation:

Processor is the answer and correct based on the fact that the EU retailer was collecting consents and sending data internationally to US. The distractor of lack of consent and the instruction somehow implied that it now needs to be adhered to by the processor despite controller EU Retailer messing up should be mindfully sidestepped. Supervisor and Controller are synonymous with both terms used in the GDPR. Data manager is not a term used in GDPR.

NEW QUESTION # 57

Which of the following does Title VII of the Civil Rights Act prohibit an employer from asking a job applicant?

- A. Questions about intended pregnancy
- B. Questions about a national origin
- C. Questions about a disability
- D. Questions about age

Answer: A

Explanation:

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 is a federal law that prohibits employment discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, and national origin. It also prohibits retaliation against individuals who assert their rights under the law or participate in an EEOC investigation! Title VII applies to employers with 15 or more employees, as well as to employment agencies, labor organizations, and joint labor-management committees.

Title VII prohibits employers from making pre-employment inquiries that express a preference, limitation, or specification based on any of the protected characteristics, unless they are bona fide occupational qualifications (BFOQs). BFOQs are rare and narrowly construed exceptions that allow employers to consider a protected characteristic when it is reasonably necessary to the normal operation of the business. For example, a religious organization may require its employees to share its faith, or a women's shelter may hire only female counselors.

NEW QUESTION # 58

All of the following common law torts are relevant to employee privacy under US law EXCEPT?

- A. Infliction of emotional distress.
- B. Intrusion upon seclusion.
- C. Defamation
- D. Conversion.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Intrusion upon seclusion and defamation are discussed in the book under workplace privacy. Infliction of emotional distress is available as an added-on civil tort with other forms of privacy torts, such as intrusion upon seclusion. The only one that makes sense in this scenario is conversion because it involves property.

NEW QUESTION # 59

Which of these organizations would be required to provide its customers with an annual privacy notice?

- A. The King County Savings and Loan.
- B. The Four Winds Tribal College.
- C. The Breezy City Housing Commission.
- D. The Golden Gavel Auction House.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The annual privacy notice requirement under the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) applies to financial institutions that collect nonpublic personal information from customers and disclose it to nonaffiliated third parties, unless they qualify for an exception. A financial institution is any entity that engages in activities that are financial in nature or incidental to such activities, as defined by section 4(k) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956. The King County Savings and Loan is a financial institution under this definition, as it engages in lending money and accepting deposits.

Therefore, it is required to provide its customers with an annual privacy notice, unless it meets the conditions for an exception. The Four Winds Tribal College, the Golden Gavel Auction House, and the Breezy City Housing Commission are not financial institutions under the GLBA, as they do not engage in activities that are financial in nature or incidental to such activities. Therefore, they are not required to provide their customers with an annual privacy notice under the GLBA.
