Salesforce Certified Platform App Builder Sample Questions (Q244-Q249):

NEW QUESTION # 244

DreamHouse Realty is rethinking its sandbox utilization strategy after acquiring Cloud Kicks. The Salesforce COE already utilizes a partial and a full sandbox, which it refreshes on their own regular schedules. Teams are expanding and have to begin each of their small projects in a sandbox before committing to the larger pool for collaborative testing while still keeping costs down. What type of sandbox should each team member use?

- A. Developer sandbox
- B. Developer pro sandbox
- C. Full sandbox
- D. Partial sandbox

Answer: A

Explanation:

The best type of sandbox for each team member to use is a developer sandbox. A developer sandbox is a copy of production that includes only the metadata, such as objects, fields, layouts, etc. It does not include any data, such as records or attachments. A developer sandbox is ideal for small projects that do not require data testing, such as developing new features or customizations. A developer sandbox has a storage limit of 200 MB and can be refreshed once per day. A developer sandbox is also cheaper than other types of sandboxes. A full sandbox is a copy of production that includes all the metadata and data. It is ideal for large projects that require data testing, such as performance testing or integration testing. A full sandbox has the same storage limit as production and can be refreshed every 29 days. A full sandbox is also the most expensive type of sandbox. A developer pro sandbox is similar to a developer sandbox, but it has a larger storage limit of 1 GB and can be refreshed every 5 days. It is ideal for projects that require some data testing, such as data migration or quality assurance testing. A partial sandbox is similar to a full sandbox, but it has a smaller storage limit of 5 GB and can be refreshed every 5 days. It is ideal for projects that require selective data testing, such as user acceptance testing or staging testing.

NEW QUESTION # 245

Universal Containers has a Lightning record page that supports both the mobile app and desktop. An app builder has downloaded a custom Lightning component from AppExchange, but users are unable to view the component on mobile devices. What can be the issue?

- A. The component has been developed for Desktop Pages.
- B. The component needs to be activated.
- C. The record page needs to be activated.
- D. The record page template is unable to support mobile devices.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The most likely reason why users are unable to view the custom Lightning component on mobile devices is that the component has been developed for Desktop Pages only. Some components are not supported on mobile devices or have different behavior on mobile devices. An app builder should check the component documentation or metadata to see if it is compatible with mobile devices.

NEW QUESTION # 246

Universal Containers has a single Contact Lightning record page. A component takes up a lot of room on the page and is NOT needed by users with a Marketing profile. What should the app builder use to solve this Issue?

- A. Component visibility filter
- B. AppExchange
- C. Detail page layouts
- D. Field-level security

Answer: A

Explanation:

The feature that the app builder should use to solve this issue is component visibility filter. A component visibility filter is a setting that can be applied to a Lightning component on a record page to control when the component is hidden or displayed based on certain conditions. The app builder can use a component visibility filter to hide the component from users with a Marketing profile. Option A is incorrect because detail page layouts are not related to Lightning components, but rather the fields and related lists that appear on record detail pages. Option C is incorrect because field-level security is not related to Lightning components, but rather the access level of fields for different profiles or permission sets. Option D is incorrect because AppExchange is not related to Lightning components, but rather an online marketplace where users can find and install apps and components.

NEW QUESTION # 247

Ursa Major Solar's service department gets requests for several types of services, such as installation, repair, and maintenance. Service managers need to be able to tell when maintenance was last done on an asset to help determine if they are meeting contract agreements, but the last maintenance date can be difficult to determine when there are many work orders related to the asset. They think it would be helpful to have a field auto-populated on the Asset record when a maintenance work order gets closed. What tool should an app builder recommend to help meet this requirement?

- A. Flow
- B. Visualforce
- C. Apex Trigger
- D. Roll-up Summary

Answer: A

Explanation:

A flow is an application that automates a business process by collecting data and performing operations in your org or an external system. Flows can also manipulate data in your org by creating, updating, deleting, or submitting records for approval. You can use flows to update fields on related records when a certain event occurs, such as closing a work order. In this case, a flow can be used to update the last maintenance date field on the Asset record when a maintenance work order gets closed.

NEW QUESTION # 248

Universal Containers uses a custom picklist field Account Region on the account record. They want this region to be reflected on all related contact records and stay in sync if the value of this field changes on the Account. How should an app builder meet this requirement?

- A. Create a text field called 'Account Region' on Contact object > Create a workflow rule to update this picklist field if the Account Region field on the Account is changed.
- B. Create a formula field on the Contact object > Set the value of the formula to `ISPICKVAL(Account.Account_Region__c)`.
- C. Create a picklist field called 'Account Region' on Contact object > Create a workflow rule to update this picklist field if the Account Region field on the Account is changed.
- D. Create a formula field on the Contact object > Set the value of the formula to `TEXT(Account.Account_Region__c)`.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Creating a formula field on the Contact object and setting the value of the formula to `TEXT(Account.Account_Region__c)` would reflect the region of the related account on the contact record and stay in sync if the value changes on the account. This is the most efficient and maintainable way to meet the requirement. Creating a workflow rule or a picklist field would require additional configuration and complexity.
