NEW QUESTION # 147

A newly configured Cisco Unified Communications system with Cisco Unity Connection has been implemented in a company. There is a concern that the voicemail system can be used to make unauthorized calls by external callers. What must be configured to reduce this risk?

- A. Mobile and Remote Access
- B. phone PIN
- C. phone PIN and web application password
- D. HTTPS and TLS for encrypted communication

Answer: B

Explanation:

To prevent unauthorized access to the voicemail system and reduce the risk of toll fraud (making unauthorized external calls via voicemail), configuring a phone PIN for voicemail access is essential. Here's why:

1. Phone PIN Security:

* A phone PIN adds a layer of authentication for accessing voicemail. Without it, external callers might exploit the voicemail system to make unauthorized calls, especially if default PINs are not changed.

2. Preventing Toll Fraud:

* Toll fraud often occurs when malicious actors gain access to voicemail menus configured to dial out or transfer calls. By requiring a secure PIN, this risk is significantly reduced.
