Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct way to expose additional data for service contracts (such as REST or GraphQL APIs) is via Extension Attributes.

How should the Developer achieve this?

- A. Implement the `DataPatchInterface`, then use the block repository in the `apply()` function to create the blocks.
- B. Implement the `InstallSchemaInterface`, then use the block repository in the `execute()` function to create the blocks.
- C. Implement the `SchemaSetupInterface`, then use the block repository in the `apply()` function to create the blocks.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 41

A recent client-reported bug is fixed by the Adobe Commerce community. The Adobe engineering team has not yet released the patch or committed the bug fix to GitHub. A Developer acquires the custom patch and releases it to their Adobe Commerce environments.

What are the recommended steps the Developer should follow to implement the custom patch for the bug fix?

- A. Install only official patches supplied by them to maintain upgradability.
- B. Install the `cweagans/composer-patches` module and edit the `composer.json` file to apply the custom patch.
- C. Update the `quality-patches` module and list the required patch in the `magento-ce-patch.yaml` file.

Answer: B

Explanation:

If a bug fix patch has not yet been officially released by Adobe (via Quality Patches Tool (QPT)), developers can apply custom patches using the `cweagans/composer-patches` package.

Option A is best practice in general, but in urgent scenarios, custom patches are allowed.

Option B applies only for official Adobe patches distributed via QPT, not for community-supplied or custom fixes.

Option C is correct: `cweagans/composer-patches` allows applying custom patches via `composer.json` until an official fix is available.

NEW QUESTION # 42

A Developer needs to subscribe to the `customer_register_success` event.

How should the observer be declared in the module?

- A. Declare in `etc/observer.xml`:

```
<observer name="vendor_module_customer_register_observer">
  <event name="customer_register_success" instance="
Vendor\Module\Observer\CustomerRegisterSuccess" />
</observer>
```
- B. Declare in `etc/events.xml`:

```
<observer name="customer_register_success">
  <event name="vendor_module_customer_register_observer" instance="
```

```
Vendor\Module\Observer\CustomerRegisterSuccess" />
</observer>
```

- C. Declare in etc/events.xml:

```
<event name="customer_register_success">
<observer name="vendor_module_customer_register_observer" instance="
Vendor\Module\Observer\CustomerRegisterSuccess" />
</event>
```

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct declaration is in etc/events.xml with <event> as the parent node and <observer> as the child node.

Magento's event/observer framework requires the observer definition to follow this structure.

Option B is invalid because the <observer> tag cannot be the root node.

Option C is invalid because Magento does not use observer.xml; only events.xml is valid.
