Fortinet FCP - FortiManager 7.4 Administrator Sample Questions (Q43-Q48):

NEW QUESTION # 43

Refer to the exhibit.

An administrator is about to add the FortiGate device to FortiManager using the discovery process. FortiManager is operating behind a NAT device, and the administrator configured the FortiManager NATed IP address under the FortiManager system administration settings. What is the expected result?

- A. During discovery, FortiManager sets the NATed device IP address on FortiGate.
- B. During discovery, FortiManager uses only the FortiGate serial number to establish the connection.
- C. During discovery, FortiManager sets the FortiManager NATed IP address on FortiGate.
- D. During discovery, FortiManager sets both the FortiManager NATed IP address and NAT device IP address on FortiGate.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 44

Which two conditions trigger FortiManager to create a new revision history? (Choose two.)

- A. When a configuration revision is reverted to a previous revision in the revision history
- B. When FortiManager is auto-updated with configuration changes made directly on a managed device
- C. When changes to the device-level database are made on FortiManager
- D. When FortiManager installs device-level changes on a managed device

Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 45

Which configuration setting for FortiGate is part of an ADOM-level database on FortiManager?

- A. Routing
- B. NSX-T Service Template
- C. SNMP
- D. Security profiles

Answer: D

Explanation:

Security profiles (such as antivirus, web filtering, application control, etc.) are stored in the ADOM-level database because they can be shared across multiple devices within the same ADOM.

NEW QUESTION # 46

An administrator created a new global policy package that includes header and footer policies and then assigned it to an ADOM. What are two outcomes of this action? (Choose two.)

- A. You can edit or delete all the global objects in the global ADOM.

- B. To assign another global policy package later to the same ADOM, you must unassign this policy first.
- C. After you assign the global policy package to an ADOM, the impacted policy packages become hidden in that ADOM.
- D. You must manually move the header and footer policies after the policy assignment.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

* Option A: To assign another global policy package later to the same ADOM, you must unassign this policy first. This is correct. FortiManager does not allow multiple global policy packages to be assigned to a single ADOM simultaneously. If you want to assign a different global policy package, the existing one must be unassigned first.

* Option C: You can edit or delete all the global objects in the global ADOM. This is correct. Once a global policy package is assigned, you have the flexibility to edit or delete global objects in the global ADOM, affecting all ADOMs to which this package is assigned.

Explanation of Incorrect Options:

* Option B: After you assign the global policy package to an ADOM, the impacted policy packages become hidden in that ADOM. This is incorrect because the policy packages do not become hidden; they are modified according to the global policies.

* Option D: You must manually move the header and footer policies after the policy assignment. This is incorrect because header and footer policies are automatically applied when assigned.

FortiManager References:

* See the "Global Policy and ADOM Management" section in the FortiManager Administration Guide.

NEW QUESTION # 47

What is a characteristic of the FortiManager high availability (HA) feature?

- A. Each cluster member must be upgraded manually, starting with the primary unit.
- B. The primary unit synchronizes all configuration revision with the secondary units.
- C. When a secondary unit is removed, FortiManager updates the managed devices using TCP port 5199.
- D. All secondary units must be in the same network as the primary unit.

Answer: B
