Answer: B,D

NEW QUESTION # 20

An AEM Sites implementation is migrating from on-premise to AEM as a Cloud Service. Previously, the application was deployed in a single package for both code and access policy nodes. After initial deployment and testing in the new infrastructure, it is reported that user permissions are not working as expected.

What change should the Architect make to address this issue?

- A. Move access policy nodes to a dedicated package and install manually
- B. Update package metadata to use MergePreserve for handling access policy nodes
- C. Document permissions and request the Customer Success Engineer to configure
- D. Refactor access policy nodes to Apache Sling JCR Repoinit scripts in the same package

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 21

A client is using AEM and wants to make sure they are managing their configurations correctly. Refer to the following requirements: The client has multiple brands that they will be hosting on a single AEM implementation The client wants to reuse as much between brands as possible Each brand needs to be able to override the default values for items like contact us information The client plans to support multiple languages in multiple regions for each brand Each brand/language/region combination will have its own set of content approvers used as part of a custom workflow Which approach should an Architect recommend to manage the client's configurations for AEM?

- A. Use OSGi to manage approval group and provide default contact us information by runmode.
- B. Use Context-aware configurations to manage configuration overrides and approval group by brand/language/region combination.
- C. Use OSGi Configuration to handle configuration overrides by brand. Create a new workflow for each brand/language/region combination for content approval.
- D. Use the OOTB Configuration Browser to set configuration defaults and approval group by brand/language/region combination.

Answer: B

Explanation:
"using Context-aware configurations can allow managing configuration overrides and approval group by brand/language/region combination using content policies".

NEW QUESTION # 22

On AEM 6.5, when an editor tries to edit pages on the author, some pages only show a blank screen. Upon inspection of the logs, the following exception is found:
Which action would an architect try to restore functionality to the system without data loss?

- A. Use the oak-run jar to revert the segment store to the last good revision
- B. Increase the tarmk.size value in the SegmentNodeStoreService config
- C. Restore the most recent back-up of the author instance
- D. Run the Data Store Garbage Collection maintenance task

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 23

A customer wants to implement an AEM solution to serve localized content to several regional websites. Which AEM capability should the Architect recommend?

- A. Use il8N API and Multi Site Manager
- B. Use translation connector and translation workflows
- C. Use translation connector and Multi Site Manager
- D. Use translation connector and il8N API

Answer: C

Explanation:
According to Adobe Experience Manager documentation, translation connectors are used to integrate AEM with third-party translation services to orchestrate the translation of AEM content. Multi Site Manager (MSM) is used to create and manage multiple websites that share common content and structure.
