NEW QUESTION # 193
A consultant is deploying a Nutanix cluster at a customer location. The consultant will be deploying the latest AOS along with the latest Nutanix hardware.

Which three references should the consultant review prior to this installation? (Choose three.)

- A. Acropolis Advanced Administration Guide
- B. Release Notes
- C. Field & Security Advisories
- D. Software Product Interoperability
- E. End-Of-Life (EOL) Information

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:
When deploying the latest AOS along with the latest Nutanix hardware, it is essential for the consultant to review multiple sources of information to ensure a successful installation. Release Notes provide details about new features, improvements, and known issues in the latest version of AOS. Software Product Interoperability outlines compatibility between different software versions, ensuring that the AOS and any integrated applications or environments will function correctly. Field & Security Advisories inform about potential security issues and recommended practices to avoid common pitfalls or security risks.
