Adobe Commerce Developer Professional Sample Questions (Q77-Q82):

NEW QUESTION # 77
Which command should be used to refresh the cache using the command line?

- A. magentocacherefresh<type>
- B. magentocachedelete<type>
- C. magentocacheclean<type>

Answer: C

Explanation:
To refresh the cache using the command line in Magento, the commandbin/magento cache:clean <type>is used. This command clears the cache for the specified type, such as configuration, layout, or block HTML.
Cleaning the cache is an essential maintenance task that helps to update the store's frontend with the latest changes and ensure that customers see the most current content. This command is particularly useful during development or after making changes to the store's configuration or layout.

NEW QUESTION # 78
Which property allows multiple cron jobs to share the same configuration?

- A. name
- B. group
- C. schedule

Answer: B

Explanation:
In Magento, thegroupelement in the cron job configuration allows multiple cron jobs to share the same configuration settings, such as schedule, status, and execution time limits. This grouping facilitates the management of cron jobs, making it easier to configure and maintain them, especially when multiple tasks require similar or identical settings. By assigning cron jobs to a specific group, they inherit the group's configuration, streamlining the setup process and ensuring consistent execution parameters across related tasks.

NEW QUESTION # 79
In which two directories are third-party modules located by default? (Choose two.)

- A. app/code/
- B. app/modules/
- C. app/packages/
- D. vendor/

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
By default, third-party modules are located in vendor/ or app/code/ directories. The vendor/ directory contains modules that are installed using Composer, while the app/code/ directory contains modules that are manually copied or cloned from a repository.
Third-party modules in Magento 2 are typically located in two directories by default: thevendor/directory and theapp/code/directory.
Thevendor/directory is used for modules that are installed via Composer, Magento's dependency manager, which includes both Magento's core modules and third-party modules. Theapp/code/ directory is used for custom modules developed specifically for the project or for third-party modules that are manually installed without Composer. These conventions provide a structured approach to managing Magento modules, whether they are part of Magento's core functionality, contributed by the community, or developed for specific projects.

NEW QUESTION # 80
Which Adobe Commerce table stores all cron data?

- A. cronjob
- B. schedule
- C. cron_schedule

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Adobe Commerce table that stores all cron job data iscron_schedule. This table maintains records of all scheduled cron tasks, including their statuses, execution times, and any messages related to their execution. It plays a central role in Magento's scheduling system, allowing for themanagement and monitoring of background tasks that are essential for various system functions and integrations.

NEW QUESTION # 81

Which file should a developer use to set the default value when creating configuration fields for admin?

- A. etc/adminhtml/system.xml
- B. etc/adminhtml/config.xml
- C. etc/config xml

Answer: B

Explanation:
When creating configuration fields for the admin panel and setting their default values, a developer should use theetc/config.xmlfile within their module. This file is used to declare default values for the module's configuration options. When Magento is installed or the module is enabled, these values are automatically loaded into the database, under thecore_config_datatable, setting the initial configuration for the module.
This approach ensures that the module has sensible defaults and operates correctly upon installation
