IIA Essentials of Internal Auditing Sample Questions (Q225-Q230):

NEW QUESTION # 225

A senior internal auditor was hired into a large internal audit activity. It was agreed upon hiring that the auditor would pursue professional development that would support her ability to take on the role of the head of internal audit. Which of the following skills best supports this development goal?

- A. Application of IIA mandatory and supplemental guidance.
- B. Technical and IT skills.
- C. Risk management and planning.
- D. Data analysis and mining.

Answer: A

Explanation:

One of the essential skills for a head of internal audit is the ability to apply the International Professional Practices Framework (IPPF) issued by the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA). The IPPF consists of mandatory and supplemental guidance that provides the principles, standards, and best practices for internal audit activities. A head of internal audit should be familiar with the IPPF and ensure that the internal audit function conforms to its requirements and expectations. The IPPF also helps the head of internal audit to demonstrate the value and quality of internal audit to the stakeholders, such as the board, senior management, regulators, and external auditors.

Additional Information:

- Data analysis and mining, technical and IT skills, and risk management and planning are also important skills for a head of internal audit, but they are not specific to the role.
- The mandatory guidance of the IPPF includes the Core Principles for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing, the Code of Ethics, the International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing (Standards), and the Definition of Internal Auditing.
- The supplemental guidance of the IPPF includes Implementation Guidance, Supplemental Guidance, and Practice Advisories that provide detailed guidance on how to apply the Standards in various situations and contexts.
