NEW QUESTION # 24

Which three statements are true about Global API versioning? (3 answers)

- A. Minimum API_VERSION is 1 and the Maximum API version follows the releases. E.g. The maximum was 4 as of Salesforce B2B Commerce Release-4.5, 5 as of Salesforce B2B Commerce Release 4.6, etc.
- B. Calling in with an API version set to lower than 1 will result in an exceptional case where the exception class `ccrz.BelowMinAPIVersionException` will be returned to callers.
- C. Calling in with an API version set to more than current maximum will result in exception case where the exception class `ccrz.ExceedsMaxAPIVersionException` will be returned to callers.
- D. The API version is scoped at the Class API level and NOT at the method level.
- E. There is no need to pass API_VERSION to the Global APIs, and based on the Salesforce B2B Commerce Managed Package version, Global APIs are able to figure out what version of the API to use.

Answer: A,B,C

Explanation:

Three statements that are true about Global API versioning are:

Calling in with an API version set to lower than 1 will result in an exceptional case where the exception class `ccrz.BelowMinAPIVersionException` will be returned to callers. This exception indicates that the API version is not supported by the framework and the caller should use a higher API version.

The API version is scoped at the Class API level and NOT at the method level. This means that all the methods in a class will use the same API version that is specified by the caller. For example, if the caller passes an API version of 4 to `ccrz.ccServiceProduct.getProducts()`, then all the other methods in `ccrz.ccServiceProduct` will also use API version 4.

Calling in with an API version set to more than current maximum will result in exception case where the exception class `ccrz.ExceedsMaxAPIVersionException` will be returned to callers. This exception indicates that the API version is not supported by the framework and the caller should use a lower API version. NEW QUESTION # 25

In which two ways can events fired from Lightning web components be handled?

- A. Attaching handlers to DOM elements
- B. Adding callbacks to components
- C. Programmatically adding event listeners
- D. Listening for all possible events at the document root

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Two ways that events fired from Lightning web components can be handled are programmatically adding event listeners and attaching handlers to DOM elements. Programmatically adding event listeners is a way of handling events by using JavaScript code to register functions that are invoked when an event occurs. The developer can use methods such as `addEventListener` or `@wire` to add event listeners to components or services that fire events. Attaching handlers to DOM elements is a way of handling events by using HTML attributes to bind functions that are invoked when an event occurs. The developer can use attributes such as `onclick` or `onchange` to attach handlers to DOM elements that fire events. Adding callbacks to components is not a valid way of handling events fired from Lightning web components, as it is not related to event handling, but rather to asynchronous programming. Listening for all possible events at the document root is not a valid way either, as it is not efficient or recommended for event handling, as it can cause performance issues or conflicts with other event listeners. NEW QUESTION # 26

What are two considerations to keep in mind when including additional JavaScript files in a Lightning web component?

- A. Each additional file needs a corresponding `.js-meta.xml` file.
- B. Additional JavaScript files should be minified before deployment
- C. The files must be ES6 modules and must have names that are unique within the component's folder.
- D. A module can export named functions or variables

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

When including additional JavaScript files in a Lightning web component, a developer should keep in mind two considerations: the files must be ES6 modules and must have names that are unique within the component's folder and a module can export named functions or variables. The files must be ES6 modules because LWC uses ES6 modules as the standard for modular JavaScript code. The files must have names that are unique within the component's folder because LWC uses the file name as the module identifier and does not allow duplicate identifiers. A module can export named functions or variables because LWC supports named exports, which allow a module to export multiple values with different names. Each additional file does not need a corresponding .js-meta.xml file, as this is only required for the main JavaScript file of the component. Additional JavaScript files should not be minified before deployment, as this is not necessary or recommended for LWC. NEW QUESTION # 27

What are two ways a developer should ensure that a store verifies changes by using an external service?

- A. Create a trigger to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery, Group Methods
- B. Create a flow using an action to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery Group Methods.
- C. Create an Apex class implementing the `sfdc_checkout.CartShippingCharges` interface to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and register it as the .. calculation integration in the store administration.
- D. Create an Apex class to retrieve shipping charges from an external service and update the Cart Delivery Group Method.

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

To verify changes by using an external service, a developer can use either of these two ways:

Create an Apex class that implements the `sfdc_checkout.CartShippingCharges` interface and defines the `getShippingCharges` method. This method takes a `Cart` object as an input parameter and returns a list of `CartDeliveryGroupMethod` objects with the updated shipping charges. The developer then needs to register the Apex class as the Shipping Calculation Integration in the store administration. This way, the store can call the external service to calculate the shipping charges for each delivery group in the cart. Create an Apex class that defines a method to retrieve the shipping charges from an external service and update the `Cart Delivery Group Method` object. The developer then needs to invoke this method from a trigger on the `Cart Delivery Group Method` object. This way, the store can update the shipping charges whenever the delivery group method is inserted or updated.

The other options are not valid ways to verify changes by using an external service. Creating a flow using an action is not supported for B2B Commerce, and creating a trigger on the `Cart Delivery Group` object will not update the shipping charges for each delivery group method. Reference:

Integrate with External Services

NEW QUESTION # 28

What happens to all previous tax entries during tax implementation?

- A. Ignored with the recalculation
- B. Saved prior to recalculation
- C. They are deleted from the Cart
- D. Modified with the new Tax calculation

Answer: B

Explanation:

In general best practices for tax implementation in systems like Salesforce B2B Commerce, previous tax entries are usually preserved or saved before any recalculation is performed. This ensures that there is a record of the original tax calculations before any modifications, which can be crucial for auditing, historical data integrity, and in case the new tax calculation needs to be rolled back for any reason.
