NEW QUESTION # 95

A Cisco device has a port configured in multi-authentication mode and is accepting connections only from hosts assigned the SGT of SGT_0422048549. The VLAN trunk link supports a maximum of 8 VLANs. What is the reason for these restrictions?

- A. The IP subnet addresses are dynamically mapped to an SGT.
- B. The IP subnet addresses are statically mapped to an SGT
- C. The device is performing mime tagging while acting as a SXP speaker
- D. The device is performing inline tagging without acting as a SXP speaker

Answer: D

Explanation:

The following restrictions are applicable when running Cisco TrustSec in enforcement mode or inline tagging mode. These restrictions do not apply when these switches are used as an SXP speaker:

- An IP subnet address cannot be statically mapped to a Security Group Tag (SGT).
- If a port is configured in multi-authentication mode, all hosts connecting to that port must be assigned the same SGT.
- Cisco TrustSec enforcement mode on a VLAN trunk line supports only up to eight VLANs. If more than eight VLANs are configured on a VLAN trunk link and Cisco TrustSec is enabled on those VLANs.

NEW QUESTION # 99

In which two ways can users and endpoints be classified for TrustSec? (Choose two)

- A. SGACL
- B. SXP
- C. dynamic
- D. VLAN
- E. QoS

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

In order to use SGTs within your infrastructure, your devices must support SGTs. All Cisco switches and wireless controllers embedded with Cisco TrustSec technology support the assignment of SGTs. An SGT can be assigned dynamically or statically. Dynamic classification occurs via an authentication sequence, via 802.1x, MAB, or web authentication. When authentication isn't available, static classification methods are necessary. In static classification the tag maps to something (an IP, subnet, VLAN, or interface) rather than relying on an authorization from the Cisco ISE. This process of assigning the SGT is defined as "classification." These classifications are then transported deeper into the network for policy enforcement.
