Huawei HCSP-Presales-Campus Network Planning and Design V2.0 Sample Questions (Q32-Q37):

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following networking modes are supported by Huawei SD-WAN?

- A. Partial-mesh
- B. Hub-spoke
- C. Hierarchical networking
- D. Full-mesh

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

Huawei's SD-WAN solution offers the industry's most flexible networking architectures. The supported modes include:

- * Hub-spoke (A): Best for star-shaped enterprise layouts where branches talk through a HQ.
- * Full-mesh (D): Every site talks directly to every other site (best for low-latency VoIP/Video).
- * Partial-mesh (C): A hybrid approach where only specific key sites are interconnected.
- * Hierarchical (B): Used for massive networks (over 1,000 sites), dividing the network into regions to improve scalability and management.

NEW QUESTION # 33

On a traditional network, network planning, configuration, and O & M are performed by professional network engineers. In contrast, on an SDN network, network services are abstracted, orchestrated, and automatically provisioned on demand through a centralized network control system.

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

This statement describes the fundamental shift from traditional networking to the SDN (Software-Defined Networking) model used in Huawei's Xinghe Intelligent Campus . By using iMaster NCE-Campus , the network complexity is hidden behind a GUI. Instead of manual, box-by-box configuration (CLI), services are defined as "intents" (e.g., "Guest Access" or "Production Fabric"), which the controller then automatically translates into configurations and deploys across the entire network fabric.

NEW QUESTION # 34

On Huawei iMaster NCE-Campus, key users can be set as VIP users. Which of the following statements are true about VIP users?

- A. In terms of high-density wireless access in conference rooms, the host can be set as a VIP user to receive always-assured wireless experience.
- B. The system generates an alarm when detecting poor VIP user experience.
- C. When VIP users are offline, the bandwidth resources reserved for them can be used by other users.
- D. The wireless AP reserves some bandwidth for VIP users.

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

The VIP Experience Assurance feature in iMaster NCE-Campus is designed for critical stakeholders. It provides Priority Scheduling and Bandwidth Reservation (C) at the air interface. If a VIP user's experience drops below a threshold, CampusInsight generates a high-priority alarm for immediate troubleshooting (B).

To ensure efficiency, the reserved bandwidth is not wasted; if no VIP users are active, the bandwidth is dynamically released to other users (D). This is a core part of the "Experience-Centric" O & M strategy in V2.
