The administrator has been asked to ensure that the Profit new on the Opportunity object is available to sales reps and is hidden from partners using Field Level Security. Which two features should the administrator use to fulfil this request?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Organization-wide Defaults
- B. Record Type

- C. Permission Set
- D. Profiles

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

A delegated administrator is a user who has been granted limited administrative privileges by an administrator through delegated administration groups. Delegated administrators can perform some administrative tasks without having full access to Setup.

Some functions that delegated administrators can perform are:

* B) Build automation and validation rules using screen flows

Screen flows are types of flows that guide users through screens with elements such as text boxes, picklists, radio buttons, etc.

Screen flows can also perform actions such as creating records, updating fields, sending emails, etc. Delegated administrators can build automation and validation rules using screen flows if they have been granted access to create and edit flows by an administrator.

* D) Make updates to permission set configurations

Permission sets are collections of settings and permissions that can extend users' functional access without changing their profiles.

Delegated administrators can make updates to permission set configurations if they have been granted access to manage users by an administrator. References: https://help.salesforce.com/s/articleView?id=sf.admin_useradmin_delegated.htm&type=5

NEW QUESTION # 85

The administrator at Universal Containers recently rolled out Email-to-Case functionality. Even though a new record type was created and specified in the Email-to-Case settings, all incoming cases are receiving a different record type.

What is likely causing the record type discrepancy?

- A. A Case assignment rule is preventing the record type from being updated.
- B. The new Case Owner needs permissions to the new record type.
- C. The Automated Case User needs permissions to the new record type.
- D. A validation rule is preventing the record type from being updated.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Automated Case User is the default user for cases created via Email-to-Case. This user needs to have permissions to the new record type in order to assign it to the incoming cases. If the Automated Case User does not have the permissions, the cases will receive a different record type based on the organization-wide default settings.
