WGU Network-and-Security-Foundation Sample Questions (Q49-Q54):

NEW QUESTION # 49

After recently experiencing a security breach, a company is working on improving its database security. As a part of its security governance strategies, the company is developing a database security checklist. Which component is important to include in this checklist?

- A. Outsourcing data management to third-party vendors
- B. Restricting physical access to locations where data is housed

- C. Developing algorithms for secure access to data
- D. Disclosing any instances of breaches of personal data

Answer: B

Explanation:

Restricting physical access to data storage facilities is a critical part of database security. Even with strong cybersecurity measures, unauthorized physical access to servers can lead to breaches. Security strategies include biometric authentication, surveillance cameras, and restricted entry zones.

- * Disclosing breaches is required by compliance laws but does not protect data proactively.
- * Developing algorithms improves security but is not a fundamental checklist item.
- * Outsourcing data management can introduce security risks if not properly controlled.

NEW QUESTION # 50

What is a CIA triad component that involves keeping systems accessible for network users?

- A. Innovation
- B. Availability
- C. Confidentiality
- D. Integrity

Answer: B

Explanation:

Availability ensures that systems, applications, and data remain accessible and operational for authorized users when needed. Organizations implement redundancy, failover mechanisms, and backup systems to maintain availability.

- * Integrity ensures that data remains accurate and unchanged.
- * Confidentiality protects sensitive data from unauthorized access.
- * Innovation is not a component of the CIA triad.

NEW QUESTION # 51

A developer is using shared functions for software code in order to reduce complexity, knowing that greater complexity and volume of code are harder to defend against attacks.

Which security principle is demonstrated in this scenario?

- A. Economy of mechanism
- B. Least privilege
- C. Least common mechanism
- D. Zero-trust model

Answer: A

Explanation:

The economy of mechanism principle states that security systems should be as simple and small as possible. Reducing complexity makes security mechanisms easier to understand, audit, and defend against attacks.

- * Least common mechanism reduces shared resources to limit security risks.
- * Least privilege restricts access based on necessity.
- * Zero-trust model assumes no implicit trust in users or devices.

NEW QUESTION # 52

An attacker uses a network device to take over an existing connection between two network computers.

Which malicious attack strategy is represented in the scenario?

- A. Dictionary attack
- B. Social engineering
- C. Session hijacking
- D. IP address spoofing

Answer: C

Explanation:

Session hijacking occurs when an attacker takes over an established connection between two devices, often by stealing session tokens or manipulating network traffic. This allows the attacker to impersonate a legitimate user and gain unauthorized access.

- * Dictionary attack involves password guessing, not hijacking active connections.
- * Social engineering tricks users into providing information but does not hijack sessions.
- * IP address spoofing disguises the attacker's identity but does not necessarily take over a session.

NEW QUESTION # 53

An organization is the victim of an attack in which an attacker targets a computer to use as a tool to infect and target other computers in a larger attack.

What is the purpose of this attack?

- A. Launch point
- B. Data modification
- C. Denial of availability
- D. Data export

Answer: A

Explanation:

A launch point attack occurs when an attacker compromises a system and uses it as a foothold to spread malware, conduct reconnaissance, or launch further attacks against other systems. Botnets and command-and-control (C2) servers operate this way.

- * Denial of availability disrupts service, but does not spread attacks.
- * Data export steals data instead of launching further attacks.
- * Data modification changes existing information but does not involve propagating threats.
