NEW QUESTION # 58

Which of the following data types can use for an exchange property in a content modifier? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. `java.lang.string`
- B. `java.lang.String`
- C. `java.lang.Integer`
- D. `java.lang.integer`

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

In SAP Cloud Integration, when configuring Exchange Properties in a Content Modifier, supported Java data types include:

`java.lang.String` # The most common type.

`java.lang.Integer` # Numeric properties can be stored.

Other options:

`java.lang.string` and `java.lang.integer` # Invalid, because Java types are case-sensitive.

Thus, correct types are `java.lang.Integer` and `java.lang.String`.

NEW QUESTION # 59

You are using a Data store Operation of the type Write. Which parameter must you select to avoid duplicate entries?

- A. Include Message Headers
- B. Encrypted stored Message
- C. Overwrite Existing Message
- D. Retention Threshold for Alerting

Answer: C

Explanation:

To avoid duplicate entries when using a Data Store Operation of the type Write, you must select the Overwrite Existing Message parameter. The Overwrite Existing Message parameter allows you to overwrite an existing data store entry with the same key if it already exists. If you do not select this parameter, the Write operation will fail if there is a duplicate key in the data store. Reference: Modernize Integration with SAP Integration Suite | openSAP

NEW QUESTION # 60

You have set up a basic authentication policy, but the API proxy returns an HTTP status of 401. What could be a reason?

- A. In the AssignMessage policy, the AssignTo tag has the type="response"
- B. In the AssignMessage policy, the AssignTo tag has the type="preflow"
- C. In the AssignMessage policy, the AssignTo tag has the type="postFlow"
- D. In the AssignMessage policy, the AssignTo tag has the type="request"

Answer: A

Explanation:

A possible reason why the API proxy returns an HTTP status of 401 after setting up a basic authentication policy is that in the AssignMessage policy, the AssignTo tag has the type="response". This means that the basic authentication value is assigned to the response header instead of the request header. This will cause an authentication failure when calling the backend server or service that requires basic authentication. To fix this issue, you should change the type attribute of the AssignTo tag to type="request". This will ensure that the basic authentication value is assigned to the request header before sending it to the target endpoint. NEW QUESTION # 61

You want to access individual entities of an HTTP call over XPath. What must you do if no namespace mapping exists?

- A. Convert the namespaces to XML
- B. Remove the namespaces.
- C. Remove the XML prolog.
- D. Convert the namespaces to JSON.

Answer: B

Explanation:

If no namespace mapping exists, you must remove the namespaces to access individual entities of an HTTP call over XPath. Namespaces are prefixes that identify the source or context of an XML element or attribute. If the namespaces are not mapped to a URI, they can cause errors or conflicts when using XPath expressions. Therefore, you must remove the namespaces before applying XPath queries.

NEW QUESTION # 62

In a Data Store write operation, you want to set an Entry ID by reading a header value from an incoming message. Which notation do you use to implement this?

- A. S${headerreceiver}
- B. S{receiverheader}
- C. S {receiverheader}
- D. ${header.receiver}

Answer: D

Explanation:

In SAP Cloud Integration, dynamic configuration values (headers, properties, body elements) are accessed using Expression Language (EL) notation:

`${header.<headerName>}` # Accesses a message header value.

`${property.<propertyName>}` # Accesses a message property.

`${body}` # Accesses the payload.

Therefore, when you want to set an Entry ID in a Data Store Write operation using a header value, the correct syntax is `${header.receiver}`.
