(Select 2 correct answers)

- A. `date_add_months`
- B. `date_add_days`
- C. `date_diff`
- D. `date_is_valid`

Answer: A,C

* `date_add_days` ## Returns the number of days added/subtracted to a given date # INT4.

* `date_diff` ## Returns the number of days between two dates # INT4.

* `date_add_months` ## Returns a DATE, not INT4.

* `date_is_valid` ## Returns a BOOLEAN (flag), not INT4.

In CDS, these date functions are used for calculations in queries, supporting business logic pushdown.

NEW QUESTION # 28

Which of the following actions cause an indirect change to a database table requiring a table conversion? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Changing the field labels of a data element that is used in the table definition.
- B. Renaming a field in a structure that is included in the table definition
- C. Shortening the length of a domain used in a data element that is used in the table definition.
- D. Deleting a field from a structure that is included in the table definition.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

The following are the explanations for each action:

A: Renaming a field in a structure that is included in the table definition causes an indirect change to the database table, as the field name in the table is derived from the structure. This change requires a table conversion, as the existing data in the table must be copied to a new table with the new field name, and the old table must be deleted.

B: Changing the field labels of a data element that is used in the table definition does not cause an indirect change to the database table, as the field labels are only used for documentation and display purposes. This change does not require a table conversion, as the existing data in the table is not affected by the change.

C: Deleting a field from a structure that is included in the table definition causes an indirect change to the database table, as the field is removed from the table as well. This change requires a table conversion, as the existing data in the table must be copied to a new table without the deleted field, and the old table must be deleted.

D: Shortening the length of a domain used in a data element that is used in the table definition causes an indirect change to the database table, as the field length in the table is derived from the domain. This change requires a table conversion, as the existing data in the table must be checked for compatibility with the new field length, and any data that exceeds the new length must be truncated or rejected.

NEW QUESTION # 29

When defining a METHOD, which parameter type can only have 1 value?

- A. IMPORTING
- B. CHANGING
- C. EXPORTING
- D. RETURNING

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation from Exact Extract:

In ABAP Object-Oriented Programming within ABAP Cloud, methods can define multiple parameters of type IMPORTING, EXPORTING, or CHANGING. However, for RETURNING parameters, only one value is permitted per method.

This restriction ensures that RAP BOs and ABAP Cloud classes expose methods with clear, unambiguous outputs, aligning with best practices of encapsulation and functional programming design.

* IMPORTING # multiple allowed

* EXPORTING # multiple allowed

* CHANGING # multiple allowed

* RETURNING # exactly one allowed
