SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition - Production Planning and Manufacturing Sample Questions (Q13-Q18):

NEW QUESTION # 13

Your company manufactures materials whose specifications differ for each manufacturing process. Which application do you have to use in SAP S/4HANA to be able to track and use this information in all areas of logistics?

- A. Batch management
- B. Engineering change management

- C. Quality management
- D. Process order management

Answer: A

Explanation:

You have to use batch management in SAP S/4HANA to be able to track and use the information about materials whose specifications differ for each manufacturing process in all areas of logistics. Batch management is a function that allows you to manage materials that are produced or procured in batches, where each batch has a unique identifier and can have different characteristics or specifications. With batch management, you can:

Define the batch characteristics and specifications for each material, such as color, potency, or shelf life.

Assign a batch number to each batch of material and record the batch characteristics and specifications in the batch master record.

Use the batch number as a key for tracking and tracing the batch throughout the logistics processes, such as goods receipt, production, quality inspection, goods issue, or delivery.

Use the batch characteristics and specifications as criteria for batch determination, which is a function that automatically selects the suitable batches for a requirement based on predefined rules and conditions.

Use the batch characteristics and specifications as input for batch valuation, which is a function that allows you to value batches of the same material differently based on their quality or market value.

NEW QUESTION # 14

What options does a planner have in the planning table for repetitive manufacturing?

Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Dispatch operations to work centers.
- B. Create new production quantities.
- C. Reschedule deallocate operations.
- D. Change the assignments of production quantities to production lines.

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 15

What are the key features of using a low-level code? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. To determine how costs are rolled up by product costing
- B. To determine the priority of alternative components inside ATP
- C. To determine the sequence in which materials are planned in MRP
- D. To determine the use of sub-items inside material BOM (bill of material)

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

The low-level code in SAP S/4HANA (visible in MD04 or calculated during MRP) indicates the deepest level at which a material appears in any BOM across all products, starting from 000 (finished goods) downward. Its key features are:

* To determine how costs are rolled up by product costing (B): In Product Costing (CO-PC), the low-level code ensures costs are calculated bottom-up, starting with the lowest-level components (e.g., raw materials) and rolling up through assemblies to the finished product (transaction CK11N). This guarantees accurate cost aggregation.

* To determine the sequence in which materials are planned in MRP (C): During MRP (MD01/MD02), the system plans materials in ascending order of low-level codes (lowest first), ensuring dependent requirements for lower-level components are calculated before higher-level assemblies, avoiding planning gaps.

Priority of alternative components in ATP (A) is managed by BOM alternative item strategies (e.g., 100% check), not low-level codes. Use of sub-items in BOM (D) is defined by item categories (e.g., "R"), not influenced by low-level codes. This is per SAP's planning and costing logic.

NEW QUESTION # 16

What is a prerequisite for consumption of planned independent requirements to take place for planning strategy 40 (Planning with final assembly)?

- A. MRP creates a planned order.

- B. A sales order is created.
- C. A sales order is delivered.
- D. MRP creates a dependent requirement.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 17

Why would you use phantom assemblies?

Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. To reduce the number of changes required in bills of material
- B. To simplify the structure of bills of material
- C. To increase the number of planning levels
- D. To reduce the number of material masters
- E. To make the assignment of components easier

Answer: A,B,E
