BCS Foundation Certificate in Business Analysis V4.0 Sample Questions (Q29-Q34):

NEW QUESTION # 29

Which of the following BEST describes the purpose of a change strategy?

- A. Mapping the alternative options.
- B. Ensuring the quickest way for transition.
- C. Achieving the transition between current state and future state.
- D. Ensuring the simplest way for transition.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A change strategy outlines how an organization will move from its current state to its desired future state. Its purpose is to ensure a structured and effective transition.

Key Considerations:

Ensuring the simplest way for transition: While simplicity is desirable, it is not the primary purpose of a change strategy.

Ensuring the quickest way for transition: Speed is not the main focus; effectiveness and alignment with goals are more important.

Achieving the transition between current state and future state: This accurately describes the purpose of a change strategy, which is to bridge the gap between where the organization is now and where it wants to be.

Mapping the alternative options: While mapping options may be part of the planning process, it is not the ultimate purpose of the change strategy.

Evaluation of Each Option:

A . Ensuring the simplest way for transition:

Simplicity is a consideration but not the primary purpose of a change strategy.

Conclusion: This is not correct .

B . Ensuring the quickest way for transition:

Speed is secondary to achieving an effective and sustainable transition.

Conclusion: This is not correct .

C . Achieving the transition between current state and future state:

This is the core purpose of a change strategy, ensuring the organization moves effectively toward its goals.

Conclusion: This is correct .

D . Mapping the alternative options:

Mapping options is part of the analysis phase, not the overarching purpose of the strategy.

Conclusion: This is not correct .

Final Recommendation:

The best description of the purpose of a change strategy is:

C . Achieving the transition between current state and future state.

NEW QUESTION # 30

What is the business analyst doing when he or she compares the BAM with the current business situation?

- A. Conceptual modelling.
- B. Analysing perspective
- C. Gap analysis
- D. Defining CATVVOE.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 31

One of the claimed advantages of buying a software package is that it is possible to predict future maintenance costs with some certainty.

How would these costs be classified in a cost-benefit analysis?

- A. As a tangible benefit.
- B. As an intangible benefit.
- C. As a tangible cost.
- D. As an intangible cost.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following requirement categories would be found in a requirements catalogue?

- a) Functional.
  - b) Non-functional.
  - c) General
  - d) Technical
- A. a, b and c only
  - B. a only.
  - C. a and b only
  - D. a, b, c and d.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A Requirements Catalogue (or Requirements Specification) serves as the central repository for all documented requirements for a solution. BCS guidance categorises requirements hierarchically. At the highest level are the Business Requirements (often called General Requirements (c) and Technical Requirements (d)). These constrain the lower-level Solution Requirements, which consist of Functional Requirements (a) (what the system must do) and Non-functional Requirements (b) (quality attributes like performance, security, and usability). Since the catalogue aims to provide a complete picture of the business need and the proposed solution's capabilities, it must contain all four categories: Functional, Non-functional, General (Business), and Technical requirements. (Reference: BCS Requirements Engineering - Requirements Categorisation and Documentation)

NEW QUESTION # 33

Which investigation technique is supported by use case' descriptions?

- A. Scenario Analysis.
- B. Questionnaires.
