IIA Practice of Internal Auditing Sample Questions (Q10-Q15):

NEW QUESTION # 10

An audit identified a number of weaknesses in the configuration of a critical client/server system. Although some of the weaknesses were corrected prior to the issuance of the audit report, correction of the rest will require between 6 and 18 months for completion. Consequently, management has developed a detailed action plan, with anticipated completion dates, for addressing the weaknesses. What is the most appropriate course of action for the chief audit executive to take?

- A. Reassign information systems auditors to assist in implementing management's action plan.
- B. Evaluate the ability of the action plan to correct the weaknesses and monitor key dates and deliverables.
- C. Assess the effectiveness of corrections by reviewing statistics related to unplanned system outages, and denials of service.
- D. Assess the status of corrective action during a follow-up audit engagement after the action plan has been completed.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The most appropriate course of action for the CAE is to evaluate the robustness and feasibility of the management's action plan to address the identified weaknesses. The CAE should monitor the implementation progress, key dates, and deliverables to ensure that corrective actions are on track and will effectively mitigate the risks within the stipulated timeline. NEW QUESTION # 11

While conducting a payroll audit, an internal auditor in a large government organization found inadequate segregation in the duties assigned to the assistant director of personnel. When the auditor explained the risk of fraud, the assistant director became upset, terminated the interview, and threatened to sue the organization for defamation of character if the audit engagement was not curtailed. The auditor discussed the situation with the chief audit executive (CAE). The CAE should then:

- A. Curtail the audit engagement to avoid potential legal action.
- B. Provide a report to senior management recommending a fraud investigation.
- C. Add additional testing to determine whether other indicators of fraud exist.
- D. Continue the original engagement program as planned but include a comment about the assistant director's reaction in the engagement final communication.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 12

An internal audit manager is supervising an engagement. A senior auditor deviates from the approved engagement plan but meets all deadlines in the approved time schedule. Which activity is not required for the audit manager to provide proper engagement supervision?

- A. Ensure compliance with the time schedule.
- B. Actively participate in audit procedures.
- C. Ensure that all engagement objectives are met.
- D. Approve the deviation from the engagement plan.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Section: Volume C

NEW QUESTION # 13

After concluding a preliminary assessment, the engagement supervisor prepared a draft work program. According to HA guidance which of the following would be tested by this program?

- A. The process objectives.
- B. The process risks
- C. The process controls
- D. The process scope

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to IIA guidance, a draft work program prepared by the engagement supervisor after concluding a preliminary assessment would test the process controls. The work program outlines the specific procedures and steps the internal audit team will take to evaluate the effectiveness of the controls in place to mitigate identified risks.
