NEW QUESTION # 143

Your organization requires you to include Extensible Flexfield values into your sales order approval rules. Which three order entities support the use of Extensible Flexfield attributes in approval rules for sales orders?

- A. Process
- B. Fulfillment Line
- C. Line
- D. Delivery
- E. Header

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

Extensible Flexfield attributes are custom attributes that you can add to Order Management entities to capture additional information that is specific to your business needs. You can use these attributes in approval rules for sales orders to define conditions and actions based on the values of the attributes. The order entities that support the use of Extensible Flexfield attributes in approval rules for sales orders are Header, Line, and Fulfillment Line. These entities have predefined Extensible Flexfield categories that you can configure and deploy in the Setup and Maintenance work area. You can also access and update these attributes in the Order Management work area.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A shipping charge list is a pricing strategy that defines the freight charges for shipping items to customers. A tiered discount is a pricing rule that applies a different discount percentage based on the quantity of the item ordered. By setting up a shipping charge list and a tiered discount using the given parameters, the client can achieve the requirement of charging $10 per item for shipping, but offering a 10% discount when customers buy more than one lounge chair, and a 20% discount when they buy between 5 and 100 lounge chairs.
