Which two CI/CD plugins are supported by Prisma Cloud as part of its Code Security? (Choose two.)

- A. IntelliJ
- B. Checkov
- C. Visual Studio Code
- D. CircleCI

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

<https://live.paloaltonetworks.com/t5/blogs/what-is-changing-for-ci-cd-plugins/ba-p/461676> Prisma Cloud has announced changes to its CI/CD plugins due to the acquisition of Bridgecrew1. The existing IaC functionality in Prisma Cloud will be replaced by a Prisma "cloud code security" (CCS) module that delivers Bridgecrew integration in Prisma Cloud1. As part of this change, several CI/CD plugins that Prisma Cloud currently uses will either be replaced or modified1.

According to the information from the link, both Checkov and CircleCI are listed as integrations that will switch to the Prisma "cloud code security" (CCS) module1. Checkov is an open-source command-line interface (CLI) utility that includes more than 750 predefined policies and supports custom policies1. CircleCI is a continuous integration and continuous delivery platform1.

NEW QUESTION # 114

Which resource and policy type are used to calculate AWS Net Effective Permissions? (Choose two.)

- A. Amazon Resource Names (ARNs) using Wild Cards
- B. Service Linked Roles
- C. AWS Service Control Policies (SCPs)
- D. Lambda Function

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

"The list of AWS policy types and identities that are used to calculate the net effective permissions are as follows:

AWS IAM role

AWS IAM policy

AWS IAM group

AWS service control policies (SCPs)

Role trust relationships

Permission boundaries

NotAction

Policies with wild card support

If your cloud environment has additional resource types, Prisma Cloud does not factor them into the net-effective permissions.

In addition, permissions can also be set by a resource-based policy. The following AWS resource-based policies are supported in the net effective permissions calculation:

Lambda function

S3 bucket

SQS queue

SNS topic

ECS task definition

Secret manager

KMS key

Lambda layer version"

NEW QUESTION # 115

Which Prisma Cloud policy type can protect against malware?

- A. Config
- B. Event
- C. Data
- D. Network

Answer: C

Explanation:

The "Data" policy type in Prisma Cloud is specifically designed to protect against threats related to data, including malware. These policies focus on securing data at rest and in transit, implementing data loss prevention (DLP) mechanisms, and scanning data stores and payloads for malicious content. By employing data policies, Prisma Cloud ensures that data stored within cloud environments is safeguarded against unauthorized access, exfiltration, and malware, thereby maintaining the integrity and confidentiality of sensitive information.

NEW QUESTION # 116

NEW QUESTION # 117

Console is running in a Kubernetes cluster, and you need to deploy Defenders on nodes within this cluster.

Which option shows the steps to deploy the Defenders in Kubernetes using the default Console service name?

- A. From the deployment page in Console, choose twistlock-console for Console identifier, and run the curl | bash script on the master Kubernetes node.
- B. From the deployment page configure the cloud credential in Console and allow cloud discovery to auto- protect the Kubernetes nodes.
- C. From the deployment page in Console, choose twistlock-console for Console identifier, generate DaemonSet file, and apply DaemonSet to the twistlock namespace.
- D. From the deployment page in Console, choose pod name for Console identifier, generate DaemonSet file, and apply the DaemonSet to twistlock namespace.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Reference: <https://cdn.twistlock.com/docs/downloads/Twistlock-Reference-Architecture.pdf> Deploying Defenders in a Kubernetes cluster involves generating a DaemonSet configuration from the Prisma Cloud Console. The "twistlock-console" is typically used as the Console identifier, which facilitates the communication between the Defenders and the Console. The generated DaemonSet file is then applied to the Kubernetes cluster, specifically within the "twistlock" namespace, ensuring that a Defender is deployed on each node within the cluster for comprehensive protection. This method is in line with Kubernetes best practices for deploying cluster-wide agents, ensuring seamless and scalable deployment of Prisma Cloud's security capabilities.
