AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist Sample Questions (Q47-Q52):

NEW QUESTION # 47
Project documentation states the system must logically Isolate control and media networks. What piece of network equipment should be used?

- A. managed switch
- B. access point
- C. router
- D. unmanaged switch

Answer: A

Explanation:
A managed switch is essential for logically isolating control and media networks because it allows for advanced network configurations such as VLANs (Virtual Local Area Networks). VLANs enable the segmentation of a network into separate, isolated sub-networks, ensuring that control traffic and media traffic do not interfere with each other. This isolation improves network performance, security, and manageability.
Managed switches provide the necessary features to implement and manage these configurations effectively.

NEW QUESTION # 48
During the site survey, the client indicates that the space that will become a rear projection room is currently an off-white color. What should be recommended to the client?

- A. paint the room gray
- B. leave the room as it is
- C. paint the room black
- D. use carpeting on the walls

Answer: C

Explanation:
For a rear projection room, it is recommended to paint the room black. Black walls minimize reflections and ambient light, which can negatively impact the quality of the projected image. By reducing these reflections, the contrast and clarity of the projection are improved, providing a better viewing experience. While gray is also a common choice for minimizing light reflections, black is more effective for creating the optimal environment for projection purposes.

NEW QUESTION # 49
In order to calculate throw distances for an existing installation, what is the FIRST thing to evaluate?

- A. the height of the ceiling
- B. light conditions
- C. aspect ratio
- D. the size of the screen

Answer: D

Explanation:
To calculate throw distance, the size of the screen is essential as it determines the distance needed for the projector to fill the screen adequately. Throw ratio calculations depend directly on screen size, impacting projector placement.
CTS Technology Specialist Reference
Throw distance calculations are covered in CTS training, where screen size is the primary factor in determining projector positioning for optimal image display.

NEW QUESTION # 50
Assuming that the speakers in the picture on the LEFT are 8 Q drivers, what is the impedance of the speaker system on the left?

- A. 2Q
- B. 4Q
- C. 16 Q
- D. 8Q

Answer: A

Explanation:
Assuming the speakers on the left are 8drivers and they are connected in parallel, the total impedanceZtZ_tZtcan be calculated using the formula for parallel resistance:
Zt1=Z11+Z21For two 8 speakers in parallel:1Zt=18+18=28=14\frac{1}{Z_t} = \frac{1}{8} + \frac{1}{8} = \frac{2}{8} = \frac{1}{4}Zt1=81+81=82=41Therefore,Zt=4Z_t = 4Zt=4If the wiring in the diagram shows two pairs of 8 speakers connected in parallel, the total impedance is 4 for each pair, and if these pairs are then connected in parallel again, the final impedance is:1Zt=14+14=24=12\frac{1}{Z_t} = \frac{1}{4} + \frac{1}{4} = \frac{2}{4} = \frac{1}{2}Zt1=41+41=42=21Thus, the total impedance is 2.References:

NEW QUESTION # 51
A loud hiss is coming from the audio system. This is MOST LIKELY caused by

- A. phase cancellation issues.
- B. fluorescent lighting.
- C. poor gain structure.
- D. the microphones being off.

Answer: C

Explanation:
A loud hiss in an audio system is most commonly caused by poor gain structure. Gain structure refers to the optimal setting of input and output levels throughout an audio system to minimize noise and distortion while maximizing signal quality. Incorrectly set gain levels can amplify the inherent noise floor of the system, leading to audible hiss. Ensuring proper gain staging at each step-from microphones to mixers to amplifiers-helps reduce this noise.
