NEW QUESTION # 64
When deploying devices in an indoor manufacturing environment, which IP rating is more likely to be required?

- A. IP38
- B. IP46
- C. IP47
- D. IP66

Answer: D

Explanation:
IP Ratings & Manufacturing: IP66 provides:
Dust-tight: (First '6') Complete protection against dust ingress.
Powerful Water Jets: (Second '6') Protection against strong water jets from any direction.
Harsh Manufacturing Environments: IP66 is common due to dust, dirt, and potential exposure to liquids during cleaning or spills.

NEW QUESTION # 65
Among these choices, what is the most common reason administrators use scripting during the deployment of a wireless solution?

- A. To provide time for playing solitaire
- B. To increase the signal strength of the resulting wireless links
- C. To reduce configuration errors
- D. To enhance the capabilities of the resulting solution

Answer: C

Explanation:
* Automation for Consistency: Scripts eliminate the potential for human error during repetitive configuration tasks on multiple devices. This ensures uniformity across the wireless solution.
* Speed and Efficiency: Scripts can be much faster than manual configuration, particularly in large deployments.
* Other Benefits: While scripts might aid signal strength (e.g., optimizing settings) or enhance solution capabilities, their core value in configuration is reducing errors.
References:
Network Automation: Benefits of using scripts for configuration management.
Configuration Management Best Practices: Emphasize the importance of consistency and repeatability.

NEW QUESTION # 66
What best describes the area covered or connected by a WWAN?

- A. City
- B. In-building
- C. Campus
- D. Region

Answer: D

Explanation:
* WWAN (Wide-Area Wireless Network): WWANs provide connectivity over extensive geographic areas, typically covering regions or even entire countries.
* Cellular Technology: WWANs often rely on cellular networks (3G, 4G, 5G) offered by mobile carriers.

NEW QUESTION # 67
A technician is troubleshooting LoRaWAN packet loss. Which factor MOST likely causes uplink failures?

- A. Incorrect network session keys
- B. Too short antenna cables
- C. Excessive spreading factor (SF too high)
- D. Gateway operating on 5 GHz

Answer: A

Explanation:
Incorrect session keys prevent devices from successfully joining or sending valid encrypted frames. High SF actually improves range; LoRaWAN does not operate on 5 GHz.

NEW QUESTION # 68
You are troubleshooting a problem with a wireless solution that uses MQTT where the IoT end devices are not reporting to the MQTT server/broker. At what Layer of the OSI Model should troubleshooting begin when using a bottom-up method?

- A. Layer 5
- B. Layer 4
- C. Layer 6

- D. Layer 1

Answer: D

Explanation:
* Bottom-Up Troubleshooting: The OSI model provides a structured diagnostic approach. Starting at Layer 1 ensures basic physical connectivity issues are ruled out first.
* MQTT Relies on IP: MQTT operates at a higher layer of the OSI model, relying on TCP/IP (Layers 4 and 3) for communication. Problems at the physical layer will disrupt everything built upon it.
* Checking the Fundamentals: Before investigating complex application issues (MQTT), verify cables, link lights, Wi-Fi signal strength, etc.
References:
OSI Model: Descriptions of the seven layers, emphasizing the foundation provided by Layer 1 (Physical).
Network Troubleshooting Guides: Resources that outline common Layer 1 problems and their symptoms.
