EXIN Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Sample Questions (Q11-Q16):

NEW QUESTION # 11
How many monitoring points should be used in Temperature Measurement?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: D

Explanation:
According to the EPI Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Reference Materials, the recommended number of monitoring points for temperature measurement in a data centre is 3 per rack: one at the top, one at the middle, and one at the bottom1. This is to ensure that the temperature distribution within the rack is uniform and within the acceptable range for the equipment. The temperature sensors should be placed at the front of the rack, where the air enters the equipment, and not at the back, where the hot air exits1. NEW QUESTION # 12
What needs to be installed in the battery room when using Lithium-ion batteries?

- A. A proper ventilation system since Lithium-ion batteries produce highly flammable Hydrogen gas during charging.
- B. A battery management system to monitor and prevent unsafe temperatures during charging/discharging.
- C. High capacity air-conditioning equipment since Lithium-ion batteries are sensitive to high temperatures, which can reduce their lifetime.
- D. A proper supply of distilled water.

Answer: B

Explanation:
According to the EPI Data Centre Training Framework, lithium-ion batteries are becoming more popular in data centres due to their higher energy density, longer lifespan, and lower maintenance costs compared to lead-acid batteries1. However, lithium-ion batteries also have some drawbacks, such as higher initial cost, stricter safety requirements, and potential thermal runaway risks1. Therefore, a battery management system (BMS) is essential to monitor and control the voltage, current, temperature, and state of charge of each battery cell or module, and to prevent overcharging, over-discharging, or overheating23. A BMS can also communicate with the UPS system and provide information on the battery status, performance, and health2.

NEW QUESTION # 13

Mean time between failures is best considered a measure of:

- A. Reliability
- B. Cost
- C. Size
- D. Duration

Answer: A

Explanation:
Mean time between failures (MTBF) is a measure of the reliability of a system or component. It represents the average time that a system or component will operate before it fails. The higher the MTBF, the more reliable the system or component is. MTBF is calculated by dividing the total time of operation by the number of failures that occur during that time. MTBF is used to compare the reliability of similar systems or components, and to help with maintenance planning, inventory management, and system design.

NEW QUESTION # 14

What is the most cost-effective way to avoid EMF issues within the Computer room?

- A. Create a distance between the EMF source and the ICT equipment / copper network cabling
- B. Reducing the voltage in the computer room
- C. Install TUVapp'oved shielding material
- D. Reducing the temperature in computer room to 18° C / 64= Fahrenheit

Answer: A

Explanation:
Physical separation is the most cost-effective method to minimize electromagnetic interference. Specialized shielding is more expensive and usually unnecessary if proper separation is maintained.

NEW QUESTION # 15

The three elements of the fire triangle are,and. (Choose three.)

- A. Oxygen
- B. Earth
- C. Water
- D. Heat
- E. Fuel

Answer: A,D,E

Explanation:
The fire triangle is a simple model that illustrates the three elements that a fire needs to ignite and sustain: oxygen, heat, and fuel. Oxygen is the oxidizing agent that enables the combustion reaction, heat is the energy source that raises the temperature of the fuel to its ignition point, and fuel is the material that reacts with oxygen and releases heat and light. Removing any one of these elements can extinguish a fire. For example, water can reduce the heat and the oxygen, sand or soil can smother the fuel and the oxygen, and fire extinguishers can displace the oxygen or lower the temperature.
