- B. It secures internet access both on and off the network.
- C. It uses zero trust network access (ZTNA) tags to perform device compliance checks.
- D. It eliminates the requirement for an on-premises firewall.

- D. Multi-tenancy must be enabled on the FortiSASE portal.

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 29
Your FortiSASE customer has a small branch office in which ten users will be using their personal laptops and mobile devices to access the internet. Which deployment should they use to secure their internet access with minimal configuration? (Choose one answer)

- A. FortiClient endpoint agent to secure internet access
- B. FortiGate as a LAN extension to secure internet access
- C. FortiAP to secure internet access
- D. SD-WAN on-ramp to secure internet access

Answer: C

Explanation:
For small branch offices (thin edges) where users utilize unmanaged personal devices (BYOD) like laptops and mobile phones, the most efficient way to provide Secure Internet Access (SIA) with minimal configuration is by deploying a FortiAP.
* Thin Edge Integration: FortiSASE includes expanded integrations with the Fortinet WLAN portfolio, allowing FortiAP wireless access points to function as "thin edge" devices. These access points intelligently offload and steer traffic from the branch directly to the nearest FortiSASE Security Point of Presence (PoP).
* No Endpoint Agents Required: Because the devices are personal and unmanaged, installing the FortiClient agent (Option A) is often not feasible or desirable. The FortiAP deployment secures all client devices at the location without requiring any endpoint agents.
* Minimal Configuration & Zero-Touch: This solution is specifically designed for small office locations with limited budgets and no local IT staff. FortiSASE offers cloud-delivered management with zero-touch provisioning for FortiAP. Once the AP is connected, it automatically establishes a secure CAPWAP or IPsec tunnel to FortiSASE, ensuring all connected users are protected by the cloud security stack (Antivirus, Web Filtering, etc.) with almost no manual setup on the end-user side.
* Why other options are less ideal:
* Option C and D: SD-WAN on-ramp and FortiGate LAN extensions typically require a physical FortiGate appliance at the branch. For a small office with only ten users and personal devices, this adds unnecessary hardware costs and configuration complexity compared to a simple, cloud- managed FortiAP.
