Salesforce Certified Platform App Builder Sample Questions (Q111-Q116):

NEW QUESTION # 111

Universal container manages internal projects by department using a custom object called projects. Only employees in the project's respective department should have view access to all of the department's project records. If an employee changes job roles and moves to another department, the employee should no longer have access to the projects within their former department. How can these requirements be met, assuming the organization-wide default for projects is set to private? Choose 2 answers

- A. Create a criteria based sharing rule using the projects department that grants access to users by permission set.
- B. Create a criteria based sharing rule using the projects department that grants access to users by profiles
- C. Create a criteria based sharing rule using the projects department that grants access to users by public groups.
- D. Create a criteria based sharing rule using the projects department that grants access to users by roles.

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 112

After universal containers converted qualified leads. Sales reps need to be able to report on converted leads. How should an app builder support for this requirement?

- A. Ensure the representative has read access to the original lead records
- B. Enable preserve lead status in the lead conversion settings
- C. Create a custom report type with converted leads as the primary object
- D. Assign the representative view and edit converted leads permission

Answer: C

Explanation:

The solution that an app builder should use to meet this requirement is creating a custom report type with converted leads as the primary object. A custom report type is a template that defines the objects and fields that are available for a report. The app builder can create a custom report type that has converted leads as the primary object and includes fields from related objects, such as accounts, contacts, and opportunities. This way, sales reps can create reports on converted leads and see their related information. Option A is incorrect because enabling preserve lead status in the lead conversion settings does not affect the reporting on converted leads, but rather allows users to retain the original lead status after conversion. Option B is incorrect because assigning the representative view and edit converted leads permission does not affect the reporting on converted leads, but rather allows users to view and edit converted lead records. Option C is incorrect because ensuring the representative has read access to the original lead records does not affect the reporting on converted leads, but rather allows users to view the original lead records.

NEW QUESTION # 113

Universal Containers wants to collaborate with its customers within Salesforce and has decided to enable the Allow Customer Invitations in the Chatter settings.

Which permission is granted to customers when invited to a Chatter group?

- A. The ability to invite members to groups of which they are a member.
- B. The ability to @mention accounts of which they are a contact.
- C. The ability to interact with members of their groups.
- D. The ability to request access to public groups.

Answer: C

Explanation:

When the Allow Customer Invitations setting is enabled, customers (external users) can be invited to specific Chatter groups as external members, allowing collaboration and communication within those groups only.

* Why A (The ability to interact with members of their groups) is correct: Exact Extract: "External users invited to Chatter groups can post, comment, and interact with members of the groups they belong to, but can't access information outside those groups." -

Salesforce Help | External Users in Chatter Groups

* Why not B: External users cannot @mention accounts; they can only mention members of their groups.

* Why not C: External users cannot invite others to groups - only internal members or group owners can.

* Why not D: External users cannot request to join public groups unless invited.

NEW QUESTION # 114

Which two are capabilities of Schema Builder? (Choose two.)

- A. Editing custom settings.
- B. Showing selected objects on a page.
- C. Viewing page layouts in a new window.
- D. Creating a new record type.

Answer: B,C

NEW QUESTION # 115

Universal Containers uses a custom object called Reviews to capture information generated by interviewers during the candidate process. The Review records are visible to any user that has access to the related custom Candidate record. The VP of Human Resources wants the comment field on the Review to be private to anyone outside of the HR department. How should the app builder meet this requirement?

- A. Create an Apex sharing rule to share the field with users that have "MR" in their role.
- B. Create a page layout with the field and use field-level security to hide the field from all other users.
- C. Create a page layout with the field for HR users and another page layout without the field for all other users.
- D. Create a sharing rule to share the field with the VP of HR with Role and Subordinates.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

Create a page layout with the field and use field-level security to hide the field from all other users is how the app builder should meet the requirement of making the comment field on Review private to anyone outside of HR department. Field-level security can control which profiles can view or edit a field on a record. Create an Apex sharing rule, create a sharing rule to share the field with VP of HR with Role and Subordinates, and create a page layout with the field for HR users and another page layout without the field for all other users are not valid or feasible solutions for this requirement.
