NEW QUESTION # 77

A CRM Analytics consultant is working on Sales dashboards with multiple datasets and advanced queries in the Sales Analytics app.

Sales managers in the organization have been given Editor/Manager access to the app, whereas sales reps have been given Viewer access.

Some dashboards that are in progress are not ready to be rolled out to sales reps and should only be viewable by sales managers. How should the consultant accomplish this?

- A. Leverage the CRM Analytics asset visibility feature to hide the assets from the users.
- B. Remove the dashboard from the 'Run App' navigation list so the sales reps cannot navigate to these dashboards.
- C. Duplicate the dashboards and their respective datasets, and move the assets to a separate app for the sales rep.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In CRM Analytics, you can control the visibility of dashboards and other assets using the asset visibility feature. This allows the consultant to restrict access to specific assets (like dashboards) for certain groups of users, such as sales reps, without needing to duplicate datasets or move dashboards to another app. This is the most efficient way to manage access for dashboards in progress while allowing only sales managers to view the in-progress dashboards.

NEW QUESTION # 78

A consultant has created a story to maximize the daily sales quantity of consumer products in stores. After creating a story, the consulting is presented with this data alert by Einstein Discovery (see graphic).

What are two appropriate actions to take?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Discuss with the client if values below 0 and above 2,489 are so uncommon that they should perhaps be left out of the story.
- B. Remove the outliers as suggested by Einstein and deploy the model.
- C. Manually remove the sales below 0 (negative sales must be a data issue), but keep the large value (the more data, the better the model will be).
- D. Remove the outliers as suggested by Einstein, and verify using model metrics and story insights if the quality improved.

Answer: A,B
