Adobe Commerce Developer Expert Sample Questions (Q15-Q20):

NEW QUESTION # 15

An Adobe Commerce Developer creates a module that adds a product attribute via a data patch. Adhering to best practices, how should the Developer remove this product attribute when the module is uninstalled?

- A. Delete the custom attribute directly from the database.
- B. Make the patch implement `Magento\Framework\Setup\Patch\PatchRevertableInterface` with the `revert()` method in it.
- C. Create a new CLI command that needs to be executed before the `bin/magento module:uninstall Vendor_ModuleName`.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 16

An Adobe Commerce Cloud Developer is tasked with investigating slow page loads and intermittent errors reported by a client after a recent deployment to their Pro Production environment.

Which action should the Developer use to quickly access and analyze the necessary data?

- A. Connect via SSH into each production node to review system and application logs independently for a more accurate representation of issues being logged.
- B. Access Cloud Console to review environment messages and deployment logs that took place during the previous deployment to production.
- C. Go to New Relic Log Management to access aggregated log data, allowing the analysis of application, infrastructure, CDN, and WAF errors.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Adobe Commerce Cloud Pro Production, logs are spread across multiple nodes, so manually checking each node (A) is inefficient. The correct approach is to use New Relic Log Management, which aggregates logs from all services and nodes. This allows developers to quickly analyze application logs, infrastructure logs, CDN, and WAF errors in one place.

A is inefficient and not recommended.

C only shows deployment logs, not ongoing runtime errors.

B is correct: New Relic Log Management is the single source of truth for performance and error analysis.

NEW QUESTION # 17

An Adobe Commerce Expert is tasked with configuring different pricing for products across a multi-site installation. Each website requires independent control of its prices while using the same catalog data.

What is the minimum store hierarchy structure required to achieve this?

- A. Multiple stores and a single store view for each store
- B. One website, one store, and multiple store views
- C. Multiple websites, each with one store and at least one store view

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Adobe Commerce, product prices are scoped at the website level. To allow different prices per site while sharing the same catalog, you must create multiple websites, each with its own store and store view(s).

A (multiple stores, single website) # shares the same price configuration.

B (multiple store views) # only useful for localization (translations), but pricing is still shared.

C is correct because each website maintains independent pricing.

NEW QUESTION # 18

A customer asks for a new functionality which will allow them to see the total lifetime sales statistic of a product. This new data is to be made available for the API and traditional product exports. The technical architect of the company servicing the client decides that for this to be achieved, the first step is for an Extension Attribute to be created.

What are the next two steps that need to be taken? (Choose two.)

- A. Declare the extension attribute in `etc/extension_attributes.xml`.

- B. Implement an around plugin on the Product Repository.
- C. Declare the extension attribute in etc/webapi_rest/extension_attributes.xml.
- D. Implement an after plugin on the Product Repository.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

To expose a new field via an Extension Attribute:

C # Declare the extension attribute in etc/extension_attributes.xml.

D # Implement an after plugin on the Product Repository to populate the new attribute with custom logic (in this case, lifetime sales).

A is incorrect: etc/webapi_rest/extension_attributes.xml does not exist (only extension_attributes.xml is valid).

B is incorrect: around plugins are discouraged here and unnecessarily complicate service contract extensions.
