Adobe Workfront Project Manager Certified Professional Sample Questions (Q97-Q102):

NEW QUESTION # 97

What are two ways to associate milestone steps to tasks? (Choose two.)

- A. Through bulk-editing multiple tasks
- B. From the Milestone View in the Projects area
- C. In-line editing a task list on a project
- D. In the settings area of a task

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Milestones in Adobe Workfront allow project managers to mark significant phases in a project. There are two primary methods for associating milestone steps to tasks:

In-line editing a task list on a project: This method allows you to quickly assign milestones while editing the task list. It's a convenient option when working directly within a project's task list, ensuring you can associate tasks with milestone steps in a streamlined way without navigating away from the list view.

From the Milestone View in the Projects area: The Milestone View is specifically designed to help manage milestones. It allows you to view and organize milestones and their associated tasks in one place, making it easy to connect tasks to milestones without manually editing individual tasks.

These methods are integral for tracking progress and ensuring that tasks align with the significant steps of a project.

NEW QUESTION # 98

Which two statements are true about Groups and Teams? (Choose two.)

- A. A Team can be assigned to a task, but a Group cannot be assigned to a task.
- B. Objects can be shared with either a Group or a Team.
- C. Work requests can be routed to either a Group or a Team.
- D. A Group can be assigned to a task, but a Team cannot be assigned to a task.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

In Workfront, Teams are operational entities that can be assigned to tasks, while Groups are organizational entities that are not assignable to tasks. Additionally, work requests can be routed to both Groups and Teams, depending on how the organization is structured and how the routing is set up.

NEW QUESTION # 99

A project manager needs to locate the fixed revenue and costs of a project. Where should the project manager look to find this information?

- A. Project Details
- B. Billing Records
- C. Business Case

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Adobe Workfront, the Project Details section is where you can find critical information about the financial aspects of a project, including the fixed revenue and costs. This section includes details such as budgets, financials, and other related data. The Business Case primarily contains the justification or rationale for the project, while Billing Records pertain to invoicing and payment tracking, not necessarily fixed project costs and revenue.

For accurate financial tracking and reporting, the Project Details page is the go-to source for project managers to monitor and update financial data.

NEW QUESTION # 100

A project manager has set up and launched a new project for an annual marketing campaign. Where can the project team locate their work requests?

- A. Email, Automatic Reminders, Workfront Home
- B. Email, Workfront Home, Project tasks list
- C. Event Notifications, Approval processes, Email

Answer: B

Explanation:

Workfront provides multiple ways for team members to track and locate their assigned work. The primary tools include the Workfront Home area, which centralizes all work items assigned to a user, and email notifications that can alert users to new assignments or updates. Additionally, users can view specific tasks in the Project tasks list. Workfront Home is a key component for workers as it consolidates all active assignments and updates in a single view.

NEW QUESTION # 101

A marketing team determines that in the future, their projects must be reviewed by the Project Sponsor before the project is closed. What is the best practice to ensure that each project is properly reviewed and approved?

- A. In the project template, add an approval process routing to the Project Sponsor for approval once the project status is set to Complete.
- B. Create a single-use approval process on each project that routes to the Project Sponsor for approval once the project status is set to Complete.
- C. Create a new approval process in the global setup area that will ensure that an approval process is attached to all Marketing Projects.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The best practice is to incorporate an approval process into the project template so that it is automatically triggered when a project reaches the completion stage. This ensures consistency and saves time by removing the need to manually set up approval processes for each new project. This approach also guarantees that the Project Sponsor's review is systematically included before the project is officially closed.
