FINRA Securities Industry Essentials Exam (SIE) Sample Questions (Q377-Q382):

NEW QUESTION # 377

Which of the following terms describes an activity associated with money laundering?

- A. Hedging
- B. Layering
- C. Insider trading
- D. Front running

Answer: B

Explanation:

Layering is one of the classic stages of money laundering, so B is correct. Money laundering generally involves moving illicit proceeds through the financial system to make the funds appear legitimate. The process is commonly described in stages: placement (introducing illegal funds into the financial system), layering (creating complex layers of transactions to obscure the source and ownership), and integration (reintroducing the funds into the economy as seemingly legitimate assets). Layering specifically refers to using multiple transactions—often rapid, complex, and sometimes across different accounts, institutions, or jurisdictions—to break the audit trail. Examples include frequent wire transfers, moving funds through multiple accounts, buying and selling financial instruments to create transactional "noise," or converting into different instruments to make tracing more difficult.

Choice A, hedging, is a legitimate investment risk management technique used to reduce exposure to market movements. Choice C, front running, is a prohibited trading practice involving trading ahead of customer orders or anticipated market-moving events for personal benefit. Choice D, insider trading, involves trading on material nonpublic information and is an anti-fraud violation. None of these are money laundering activities; they are unrelated concepts that appear elsewhere on the SIE (trading practices and prohibited activities).

On the SIE, AML questions frequently test your ability to recognize the terminology of money laundering and the role of broker-dealer AML programs, suspicious activity reporting, and red flags. "Layering" is a key vocabulary term and is strongly associated with attempts to conceal the origin of funds.

NEW QUESTION # 378

Under FINRA rules, which of the following events does not require a registered representative to update her Form U4 disclosure?

- A. Felony convictions
- B. Regulatory disciplinary actions
- C. Any resolution of customer complaints involving payment of $15,000 or more
- D. Receipt of a deficiency letter after an internal compliance audit

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 379

Which of the following transactions is most profitable if executed prior to a significant rise in a company's stock price?

- A. Buying a put option
- B. Selling a put option
- C. Buying a call option
- D. Selling a call option

Answer: C

Explanation:

Buying a call option gives the investor the right to purchase the stock at a fixed price (strike price). If the stock's price rises significantly, the value of the call option increases, allowing the investor to profit.

* B is correct because a call option profits directly from a stock price increase.

* A is incorrect because a put option profits from a stock price decline.

* C and D are incorrect because selling options limits profit potential and exposes the seller to significant risk if the stock moves unfavorably.

NEW QUESTION # 380

What is the sales load of an open-end investment company with a net asset value (NAV) of $14.35 and a public offering price (POP) of $15.50?

- A. 7.40%
- B. 8.50%
- C. 8.00%
- D. 9.25%

Answer: B

Explanation:

The sales load is calculated as a percentage of the POP, using the formula:

$\text{Sales load} = (\text{POP} \# \text{NAV}) \div \text{POP} \times 100$

* POP = $15.50, NAV = $14.35.

* Sales load = $($15.50 # $14.35) \div $15.50 \times 100 = 8.50\%$.

* C is correct because the calculation results in an 8.50% load.

* A, B, and D are incorrect due to incorrect calculations.

NEW QUESTION # 381

The process in which the buying firm must pay for the securities and the selling firm must deliver the securities is known as:

- A. A corporate action
- B. The settlement of the transaction
- C. Clearing the trade
- D. A delivery versus payment (DVP) transaction

Answer: B

Explanation:

Step by Step Explanation:

* Settlement of the Transaction: Refers to the finalization of a trade, where the buyer pays for the securities, and the seller delivers them. For most securities, regular-way settlement occurs T+2 (trade date plus two business days).

* Incorrect Options:

* Clearing the Trade: Refers to matching trade details to prepare for settlement.

* DVP Transactions: A specific type of settlement involving simultaneous payment and delivery, often used for institutional clients.

* Corporate Action: Refers to events like stock splits or dividend declarations.
