CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 2 Sample Questions (Q149-Q154):

NEW QUESTION # 149

After a user installs a mobile application from an advertisement, the phone's battery dies a few hours later and becomes hot to touch, even when not in use. Which of the following should a technician do first?

- A. Run a mobile malware scan on the phone
- B. Contact the software developer
- C. Check for unauthorized device administrators
- D. Ensure appropriate MDM policies are applied

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

These symptoms strongly indicate malware infection or a malicious app running in the background. The first action should be to run a malware scan to identify and remove malicious components.

From Quentin Docter - CompTIA A+ Complete Study Guide:

"If a mobile device is overheating and the battery drains rapidly after installing an app, this could point to malware. Begin by scanning the device with a mobile anti-malware application."

NEW QUESTION # 150

A small office reported a phishing attack that resulted in a malware infection. A technician is investigating the incident and has verified the following:

- # All endpoints are updated and have the newest EDR signatures.
- # Logs confirm that the malware was quarantined by EDR on one system.
- # The potentially infected machine was reimaged.

Which of the following actions should the technician take next?

- A. Install network security tools to prevent downloading infected files from the internet
- B. Suggest alternate preventative controls that would include more advanced security software
- C. Flash the firmware of the router to ensure the integrity of network traffic
- D. Discuss the cause of the issue and educate the end user about security hygiene

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

After containment and remediation, one of the final steps in incident response is user education. Since the root cause was a phishing attack, it is essential to educate users about identifying phishing attempts, safe browsing practices, and how to handle suspicious communications. This improves overall security posture and helps prevent future incidents.

A: Installing additional tools may be helpful but is a long-term step.

C: Flashing router firmware is not warranted unless the network hardware is known to be compromised.

D: Suggesting more advanced tools might be excessive given that the EDR successfully contained the incident.

Reference:

CompTIA A+ 220-1102 Objective 2.5: Given a scenario, detect, remove, and prevent malware using appropriate tools and methods.

Study Guide Section: Incident response and user education after a security event

NEW QUESTION # 151

A help desk technician recently installed an SSH client on a workstation in order to access remote servers. What does this enable?

- A. To utilize an SSO connection
- B. To facilitate device log reviews

- C. To encrypt and decrypt protected messages
- D. To securely establish a console session

Answer: D

Explanation:

SSH (Secure Shell) allows encrypted console sessions to access and administer remote servers.

From Quentin Docter - Complete Study Guide:

"Secure Shell (SSH) provides an encrypted console session to manage Linux, UNIX, or network devices securely over TCP port 22."

NEW QUESTION # 152

A user's computer is running slowly. Task Manager shows:

Disk: 2%

Network: 12%

GPU: 15%

CPU: 70%

Memory: 97%

Which of the following would a technician most likely do to resolve the issue?

- A. Close unnecessary programs
- B. Upgrade the network connection
- C. Delete temporary files
- D. Clear browser cached data

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Memory usage is critically high, suggesting many applications or background processes. Closing unnecessary programs will immediately free up RAM.

From Travis Everett - All-in-One Exam Guide:

"High memory usage with moderate CPU load usually means too many applications are open. Close unnecessary apps or use Task Manager to end processes."

NEW QUESTION # 153

Which of the following is used in addition to a password to implement MFA?

- A. Verifying the user's date of birth
- B. Sending a code to the user's phone
- C. Prompting the user to solve a simple math problem
- D. Requiring the user to enter a PIN

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA) requires at least two different types of authentication factors:

* Something you know (e.g., password or PIN)

* Something you have (e.g., smartphone or hardware token)

* Something you are (e.g., fingerprint or facial recognition)

Option A, sending a code to the user's phone, is an example of "something you have" - a physical device that receives a one-time passcode. Combined with a password, this forms a proper MFA implementation.

B: Date of birth is another knowledge-based factor (like a password), not a second factor type.

C: Solving a math problem is not a recognized authentication factor.

D: A PIN is also "something you know" and does not count as a distinct MFA factor when paired with a password.

Study Guide Section: Authentication factors - password, biometrics, tokens, MFA
