Veeam Certified Engineer v12 Sample Questions (Q132-Q137):

NEW QUESTION # 132

A backup administrator decided to move the Veeam Backup & Replication server and configuration database to new servers. Which configuration restore mode should be used?

- A. Planned failover
- B. Failover plan
- C. Restore
- D. Migrate

Answer: C

Explanation:

When moving the Veeam Backup & Replication server and its configuration database to new hardware or servers, the appropriate process to undertake is a configuration restore, denoted by option A: Restore. This process involves using the Veeam Backup & Replication Configuration Backup utility, which regularly backs up the configuration of the Veeam Backup & Replication server. In the event of a hardware migration or significant system change, this utility allows administrators to restore the server's configuration, including all settings, job configurations, and inventory, onto the new server setup. This ensures a seamless transition with minimal disruption to the backup operations and policies that were previously in place.

NEW QUESTION # 133

The configuration database is corrupted, and the backup administrator wants to recover the data. Which configuration restore mode should be used?

- A. Failover
- B. Instant Recovery

- C. Restore
- D. Migrate

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

The Restore mode in the VMware Configuration Restore wizard restores the configuration database from a backup. This mode is typically used when the configuration database has become corrupted or damaged.

NEW QUESTION # 134

A company has an RPO set at 4 hours and values data protection and disaster recovery. A disaster occurs on June 12, 2023 at 10:00 AM.

Which restore point gives the company the best RPO?

- A. June 12,2023,9:30 AM
- B. June 12,2023, 1:00 PM
- C. June 12,2023,8:00 AM
- D. June 12,2023,5:00 AM

Answer: A

Explanation:

Given the company has an RPO set at 4 hours, the restore point that gives the best RPO is the one closest to the time of the disaster without going over the disaster's timestamp. Since the disaster occurred on June 12, 2023, at 10:00 AM, the restore point at June 12, 2023, 9:30 AM would be the most recent one within the RPO threshold. This restore point minimizes data loss and provides the most current data before the disaster.

NEW QUESTION # 135

Which API is available to automate Veeam Backup and Replication operations?

- A. Powershell cmdlets through Veeam Enterprise Manager Server
- B. REST API through Veeam Backup and Replication Server
- C. SQL queries on the Veeam Backup and Replication database
- D. REST API through Veeam One server

Answer: B

Explanation:

The REST API through Veeam Backup and Replication Server is the available API for automating Veeam Backup and Replication operations. This API enables programmatic control over Veeam Backup & Replication and allows for integration with external systems and custom automation scripts.

NEW QUESTION # 136

A company wants to ensure that, during a replication failover, database servers boot before the application servers. How can this be accomplished?

- A. Create a replica mapping
- B. Create a disaster recovery template
- C. Create a planned failover
- D. Create a failover plan

Answer: D

Explanation:

Veeam Backup & Replication allows you to set up failover plans to control the order in which VMs are started during a failover. By creating a failover plan, you can specify that the database servers boot before the application servers. This is achieved by setting up VM dependencies within the failover plan, ensuring that the database servers (which are critical for the application servers to function) are operational before the application servers start. Creating a disaster recovery template (B), creating a replica mapping (C), or initiating a planned failover (D) does not directly address the boot order of the servers during failover.
