ISQI ISTQB Foundation Level - Acceptance Testing Sample Questions (Q14-Q19):

NEW QUESTION # 14
Which of the following reasons explains BEST why it makes sense to review test reports?

- A. If the test reports are unclear or incomplete, the decision to release the product can be base on non reliable information
- B. Test automation engineers may misunderstand the test case and implement test scripts that miss the target

- C. Like all humans, the tester can make mistakes and overlook important acceptance criteria of a requirement / user story
- D. The test report quality significantly influences the impression third parties get from the organization / the product.

Answer: A

Explanation:
Test reports summarize the results of test execution and are often used by stakeholders, including business owners and release managers, to make informed decisions about whether to release a product. If these reports are ambiguous, incomplete, or inaccurate, the decisions based on them could be flawed, leading to reputational damage, customer dissatisfaction, or regulatory issues.
Option A is correct because it highlights the risk of basing critical go/no-go decisions on poor-quality reporting.
Other options:
B describes a problem with test case implementation, not test reporting.
C mentions public perception, which might be influenced by report quality, but it is secondary to the internal decision-making purpose.
D refers to human error during test execution or design, not the purpose of reviewing test reports.
A). If the test reports are unclear or incomplete, the decision to release the product can be based on non-reliable information

NEW QUESTION # 15
Which one of the following sentences describes BEST a major advantage when business analysts and testers review the acceptance criteria together?

- A. A shared vision between the business analyst and the tester on acceptance criteria facilitates the design of acceptance test cases.
- B. A joint review ensures that non-functional quality criteria are taken into account.
- C. The review of acceptance criteria helps to verify that acceptance test cases cover business processes, business rules and business risks.
- D. The review of acceptance criteria is a good practice to improve the quality of test reports.

Answer: A

Explanation:
Collaboration between business analysts and testers is essential in defining and reviewing acceptance criteria.
When both roles work together, they ensure the criteria are not only aligned with business goals but also testable and clearly specified.
Option A is correct because shared understanding of acceptance criteria allows testers to design test cases that truly validate business expectations, reducing misinterpretations and increasing confidence in the product.
Other options:
B is valid but not the best - non-functional requirements are important but often handled separately.
C is partially correct but assumes acceptance test cases already exist, whereas the review often happens earlier in the process.
D focuses on test reporting, which is downstream from criteria definition and test case design.
A). A shared vision between the business analyst and the tester on acceptance criteria facilitates the design of acceptance test cases.

NEW QUESTION # 16
A green courier working for an urban delivery service company uses three types of vehicles: normal bicycles, electric cargo bikes and electric vans. The following DMN table provides the rules used to select the type of zero emission vehicle to be used according to the weight (in kg) and the largest dimension (in cm) of the parcel, and the delivery distance (in km) Which one of the following statements is consistent with this DMN table?

- A. Electric cargo bikes are never used for short distances
- B. Normal bicycles are mainly used for short trips regardless of the weight of the parcel
- C. Electric vans are systematically used when the parcel size is larger than 150cm
- D. When the weight of the parcel exceeds 50kg then the electric cargo bike is necessarily used

Answer: D

Explanation:
Let's analyze the DMN table shown in the image:
Rule 1: If weight #15, size #50, and distance #10 # use Normal bicycle
Rule 2: If weight is between 15 and 60 kg, size #150, and distance #25 # use Electric cargo bike Rule 3: Otherwise # use Electric van Now consider the options:
A: Incorrect - parcel size is not the only determining factor for using electric vans; it's about weight, size, and distance combined.
B: Incorrect - normal bicycles are used only when weight #15 kg, size #50 cm, and distance #10 km - so not just "short trips." C: Incorrect - electric cargo bikes are explicitly used for short trips (#25 km), per Rule 2.
D: Correct - based on the rules, any weight above 15 kg (and up to 60 kg) results in the use of electric cargo bikes. So if weight >50 kg (but #60), cargo bike is still used under the conditions of Rule 2.
Therefore, the most consistent interpretation of the decision model is:
D). When the weight of the parcel exceeds 50kg then the electric cargo bike is necessarily used

NEW QUESTION # 17
You recently became an acceptance tester in a cross-discipline project, because your predecesor left the company over nogth. The 15 project team members are located in different time zones. Everybody seems to work hard on their tasks, but nobody can give you with an overview on the project.
What one of the following actions is BEST to encourage the team members to work closer together?

- A. You write a long e-mail summarizing your understanding of the project goals, its current difficulties and indicate the steps required to solve the problem.
- B. You organize a workshop with all team members to establish common understanding and to lay the foundation for fruitful trusting collaboration
- C. You establish a test management tool to make sure everybody has Access to the requirements and their related test cases.
- D. Knowing about the importance of the personal interactions, you travel from site to site to meet with every project team member and collect their vision

Answer: B

Explanation:
In cross-functional, globally distributed teams, establishing collaboration, communication, and trust is key. A workshop (even virtual) is a proven method for initiating alignment, especially when a new team member joins, and project coordination is weak.
Option A promotes transparency and collective understanding, crucial for building team cohesion.
Option B is too passive and one-directional. Long emails rarely solve coordination problems in Agile or collaborative contexts.
Option C is about tool setup, not team integration or communication - tools are supportive but not substitutes for human connection.
Option D is not efficient; traveling to meet each team member is impractical and doesn't guarantee a shared team vision.
A). You organize a workshop with all team members to establish common understanding and to lay the foundation for fruitful trusting collaboration.

NEW QUESTION # 18
The project team is currently facing a difficult situation originating from their difficulty in envisioning the future and the necessary steps to reach it together with a certain loss of motivation due to a strong feeling of stagnation. You try to unlock the situation by proposing a workshop. Which one would fit the best?

- A. You draw a staircase with 11 steps, each of them representing a major milestone of the project. The bottom of the stairs corresponds to the first day of the project and the upper step means that the project is released. You locate the present situation in the middle of the stairs. The team is asked to identify and discuss the major steps down and up.
- B. You ask two volunteers to play a part in front of the team. One will try to defend the project and propose positive arguments and ways forward. The other will do the opposite. You then recapitulate the major arguments of both sides and debate them openly with the team.
- C. You visualize all remaining major milestones of the project, starting with today and ending with project release. Then, you ask the team to identify and discuss the necessary actions to move forward from the present situation and to reach the milestones.
- D. You organize a day out with challenging physical exercises practiced in teams followed by an afterwork dinner and drink. After all, nothing is best for motivation than hard times together, strong common objectives and a promise of good time.

Answer: A
