- A. Standards are always legally binding and must be followed.
- B. Compliance with standards is voluntary.
- C. Standards have criminal penalties for non-compliance.
- D. Courts never consider standards when determining liability.

Why is segmentation from non-IACS zones important in Network & Communication Security (SP Element 3)?

- A. To ensure backup verification processes run smoothly
- B. To classify data according to sensitivity levels
- C. To prevent attacks originating outside the IACS
- D. To manage user identity persistence effectively
