- A. You can use the valuation grouping code to group together plants assigned to company codes with different charts of accounts.
- B. You can use the valuation grouping code to group together plants assigned to company codes with the same chart of accounts.
- C. You can use the account grouping code to group together plants assigned to company codes with the same chart of accounts.
- D. You can use the account grouping code to group together plants assigned to company codes with different charts of accounts.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

You can use the valuation grouping code to group together plants assigned to company codes with the same chart of accounts. This reduces the effort to configure account determination because you only need to maintain one set of valuation classes and account assignments for each valuation grouping code instead of each plant.
