NEW QUESTION # 281

To see what scripts, reports, and other application artifacts will be in a published application:

- A. Open the artifact records individually to verify the value in the Application field

- B. Examine the Application Files Related List in the application to be published
- C. Open the list of Update Sets for the instance
- D. Enter the name of the Application in the Global search field

Answer: B

Explanation:

To see what scripts, reports, and other application artifacts will be in a published application, the best option is to examine the Application Files Related List in the application to be published. This will show all the application files that belong to the application, grouped by file type and scope. You can also filter, sort, or search the list to find specific files.

The following options are not the best ways to see what application artifacts will be in a published application:

Enter the name of the Application in the Global search field. This will perform a global text search on the instance and return any records that match the application name, which may include irrelevant or incomplete results.

Open the list of Update Sets for the instance. This will show all the update sets that have been created or imported on the instance, but not necessarily the ones that belong to the application to be published. Update sets are used to move customizations between instances, not to publish applications to the ServiceNow Store or Share.

Open the artifact records individually to verify the value in the Application field. This will require opening each record that may be part of the application and checking the Application field, which is tedious and error-prone. Reference: Publish an Application, Application Files

Which items are valid UI Action types in ServiceNow? (Choose 3 answers)

- A. List choice
- B. List banner button
- C. Form choice
- D. Workflow action
- E. Form button
- F. Record navigation button

Answer: B,E,F

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Step-by-Step

UI Action Types:

List banner button: A button that appears in the list view banner, allowing users to perform actions on multiple records or interact with the list itself.

Form button: A button that appears on a form, enabling users to execute server-side or client-side scripts.

Record navigation button: A button used to navigate between records or perform specific actions related to a record.

Why Other Options Are Incorrect:

Option B (Workflow action): This is not a valid UI Action type; workflows are managed separately.

Option D (List choice) and Option E (Form choice): These are not valid UI Action types; they might confuse users with list or form field options instead.
