NEW QUESTION # 60

Which of the following factors apply to Model Transfer in the context of Semantic Onboarding? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. SAP BW bridge Model Transfer leverages BW Modeling tools to import entities into native SAP Datasphere.
- B. Model Transfer can be leveraged from an On-premise environment to the cloud the other way around.
- C. SAP S/4HANA Model Transfer leverages ABAP CDS views for model generation in SAP Datasphere.
- D. SAP BW/4HANA Model Transfer leverages BW Queries for model generation in SAP Datasphere.

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

* Semantic Onboarding: Semantic Onboarding refers to the process of transferring data models and their semantics from one system to another (e.g., from on-premise systems like SAP BW/4HANA or SAP S/4HANA to cloud-based systems like SAP Datasphere). This ensures that the semantic context of the data is preserved during the transfer.

* Model Transfer: Model Transfer involves exporting data models from a source system and importing them into a target system. It supports seamless integration between on-premise and cloud environments.

* SAP Datasphere: SAP Datasphere (formerly known as SAP Data Warehouse Cloud) is a cloud-based solution for data modeling.

integration, and analytics. It allows users to import models from various sources, including SAP BW/4HANA and SAP S/4HANA.

* A. SAP BW/4HANA Model Transfer leverages BW Queries for model generation in SAP Datasphere:

This statement is incorrect. While SAP BW/4HANA Model Transfer can transfer data models to SAP Datasphere, it does not rely on BW Queries for model generation. Instead, it transfers the underlying metadata and structures (e.g., InfoProviders, transformations) directly.

* B. Model Transfer can be leveraged from an On-premise environment to the cloud the other way around: This statement is incorrect. Model Transfer supports bidirectional movement of models between on-premise systems (e.g., SAP BW/4HANA) and cloud-based systems (e.g., SAP Datasphere). This flexibility allows organizations to integrate their on-premise and cloud landscapes seamlessly.

* C. SAP BW bridge Model Transfer leverages BW Modeling tools to import entities into native SAP Datasphere: This statement is incorrect. The SAP BW bridge is primarily used to connect SAP BW /4HANA with SAP Datasphere, but it does not leverage BW Modeling tools to import entities into SAP Datasphere. Instead, it focuses on enabling real-time data replication and virtual access.

* D. SAP S/4HANA Model Transfer leverages ABAP CDS views for model generation in SAP Datasphere: This statement is incorrect. SAP S/4HANA Model Transfer uses ABAP Core Data Services (CDS) views to generate models in SAP Datasphere. ABAP CDS views encapsulate the semantic definitions of data in SAP S/4HANA, making them ideal for transferring models to the cloud.

* B: Model Transfer supports bidirectional movement between on-premise and cloud environments, ensuring flexibility in hybrid landscapes.

* D: ABAP CDS views are a key component of SAP S/4HANA's semantic layer, and they play a critical role in transferring models to SAP Datasphere.

References: SAP Datasphere Documentation: The official documentation outlines the capabilities of Model Transfer and its support for bidirectional movement.

SAP Note on Semantic Onboarding: Notes such as 3089751 provide details on how models are transferred between systems.

SAP Best Practices for Hybrid Integration: These guidelines highlight the use of ABAP CDS views for model generation in SAP Datasphere.

By leveraging Model Transfer, organizations can ensure seamless integration of their data models across on-premise and cloud environments
