NEW QUESTION # 48

How can you get the public certificate that is required to validate a JSON Web Token?

- A. By calling the endpoint `accounts.getJWTPublicKey`
- B. By requesting the certificate from the SAP Customer Data Cloud support team
- C. By downloading the certificate from the SAP Customer Data Cloud console
- D. By calling the endpoint `accounts.getJWTPublicCertificate`

Answer: D

Explanation:

To validate a JSON Web Token (JWT), you need the public certificate or key that corresponds to the private key used to sign the token. In SAP Customer Data Cloud, the public certificate can be retrieved programmatically by calling the `accounts.getJWTPublicCertificate` endpoint. This endpoint provides the public certificate required for JWT validation.

- * Option A: While SAP Customer Data Cloud provides tools and configurations in its console, downloading certificates directly from the console is not the recommended approach for JWT validation.
- * Option C: Requesting the certificate from SAP support is unnecessary and inefficient, as the certificate is available via API.
- * Option D: The `accounts.getJWTPublicKey` endpoint does not exist in SAP Customer Data Cloud. The correct endpoint is `accounts.getJWTPublicCertificate`.
