What issue could the admin be facing?

- A. Keyword is a reserved word
- B. Keyword has too many characters
- C. Keyword fails to meet content standards
- D. Keyword is used within another business unit

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation

The issue that the admin could be facing when entering the desired keyword CELEBRATION is that the keyword is used within another business unit. A keyword is a word or phrase that subscribers can use to interact with NTO via SMS messages, such as opting in or out of a text message program. A keyword can only be used by one business unit within Marketing Cloud, so if another business unit has already claimed CELEBRATION as their keyword, then it will be unavailable for other business units. The other options are incorrect because:

* Keyword is a reserved word. This is not an issue that the admin could be facing when entering CELEBRATION as their keyword, as CELEBRATION is not a reserved word in Marketing Cloud. A reserved word is a word or phrase that has a special meaning or function in Marketing Cloud and cannot be used as a keyword by any business unit. Some examples of reserved words are HELP, STOP, JOIN, and INFO1.

* Keyword has too many characters. This is not an issue that the admin could be facing when entering CELEBRATION as their keyword, as CELEBRATION does not have too many characters for a keyword. A keyword can have up to 15 characters in Marketing Cloud, and CELEBRATION has only 11 characters1.

* Keyword fails to meet content standards. This is not an issue that the admin could be facing when entering CELEBRATION as their keyword, as CELEBRATION does not fail to meet content standards for a keyword. Content standards are guidelines that NTO should follow when choosing a keyword to ensure that it is relevant, appropriate, and compliant with their industry and market regulations1.

CELEBRATION does not violate any content standards for a keyword, as it is not offensive, misleading, or illegal.
