問題 #116

(A business analyst queries the same few tables every quarter and does not want to write new SQL code every time. Which of the following would best support the business analyst's needs and allow the database administrator to optimize disk space?)

- A. Table
- B. Function
- C. Stored procedure
- D. View

答案： D

解題說明：

The correct answer is B. View. CompTIA DataSys+ documentation explains that views are virtual tables created from stored SQL queries that present data from one or more underlying tables without physically storing the data themselves. This makes views an ideal solution when users repeatedly query the same datasets and want consistent results without rewriting SQL statements.

In this scenario, the business analyst runs the same queries every quarter. By using a view, the analyst can simply query the view as if it were a table, eliminating the need to re-create complex SQL joins, filters, or aggregations each time. From a usability standpoint, views simplify access to data and reduce the likelihood of query errors, which aligns with DataSys+ objectives related to usability and abstraction.

From the database administrator's perspective, views also help optimize disk space. Because views do not store data physically (unlike tables), they consume minimal storage while still providing a reusable query structure. This is especially important in environments where storage efficiency and performance tuning are key responsibilities of the DBA.

Option A, a table, would require duplicating data, increasing disk usage and maintenance overhead. Option C, a function, is typically used to return a calculated value and is not designed to represent reusable multi-row query results for reporting purposes. Option D, a stored procedure, can encapsulate logic and queries, but it is generally used for executing operations rather than providing a simple, queryable dataset for analysts. Stored procedures may also introduce additional complexity and are less intuitive for ad-hoc querying.

CompTIA DataSys+ emphasizes views as a best practice for abstraction, security, and efficiency. They support repeated reporting needs while preserving storage resources and simplifying database management.

Therefore, B. View is the most accurate and fully aligned answer.

問題 #117

A data scientist recently joined a company and needs to review the data before building models. Which of the following tools can the data scientist use to find the most extensive details?

- A. Unified modeling language
- B. Entity relationship diagram
- C. Maintenance documentation
- D. Data dictionary

答案： D

解題說明：

A data dictionary provides detailed metadata about data elements, including definitions, formats, and relationships, helping the data scientist understand the dataset comprehensively.

問題 #118

A database administrator would like to extract a sales performance report from more than one database instance. Which of the following keywords should the database administrator use?

- A. WITH
- B. JOIN ON

- C. UNION ON
- D. UNION AND

答案： B

問題 #119

Which of the following can be used to protect physical database appliances from damage in a server room? (Choose two.)

- A. Database control systems
- B. Biometric access systems
- C. Camera systems
- D. Cooling systems
- E. Key card systems
- F. Fire suppression systems

答案： D,F

解題說明：

The two options that can be used to protect physical database appliances from damage in a server room are fire suppression systems and cooling systems. Fire suppression systems are systems that detect and extinguish fires in a server room using water, gas, foam, or other agents.

Fire suppression systems help prevent damage to physical database appliances caused by fire hazards such as overheating, electrical faults, or flammable materials. Cooling systems are systems that regulate the temperature and humidity in a server room using fans, air conditioners, chillers, or other devices. Cooling systems help prevent damage to physical database appliances caused by excessive heat or moisture that may affect their performance or lifespan. The other options are either not related or not effective for this purpose. For example, biometric access systems, camera systems, and key card systems are systems that control the access to a server room using fingerprints, facial recognition, video surveillance, or magnetic cards; these systems help prevent unauthorized entry or theft of physical database appliances, but not damage caused by environmental factors; database control systems are systems that manage the functionality and security of databases using software tools or commands; these systems help protect logical database appliances from errors or attacks, but not physical damage caused by environmental factors.

問題 #120

Which of the following database structures is designed to store images, records, video, and audio in a single repository?

- A. Linear
- B. NoSQL
- C. Entity-relationship
- D. Hierarchical

答案： B

解題說明：

NoSQL databases are designed to store and manage diverse data types such as images, video, audio, and records in a flexible, single repository without fixed schemas.
