OCPE Pesticide Applicator Category 7A General and Household Pest Control Exam Sample Questions (Q16-Q21):

NEW QUESTION # 16

Mites are related to ticks; the itch mite and follicle mite are a problem for man and:

- A. Diagnosis and control should be done by a physician
- B. Are poisonous
- C. Require the use of residual pesticides for their control

Answer: A

Explanation:

Itch mites (e.g., scabies) and follicle mites (e.g., Demodex) affect humans and are medical concerns, not structural pest issues. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 7: Mites) advises that diagnosis and control should be done by a physician, as these mites require medical treatment (e.g., prescription creams). Option A (are poisonous) is incorrect, as they are not poisonous but cause irritation. Option C (residual pesticides) is not appropriate, as these are human parasites, not structural pests.

NEW QUESTION # 17

___ pressure is suggested for indoor use with a handheld sprayer.

- A. High
- B. Low
- C. A power sprayer and high

Answer: B

Explanation:

For indoor applications with a handheld sprayer, low pressure is recommended to minimize overspray and reduce the risk of pesticide drift onto non-target areas, such as furniture or food surfaces. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 5: Pesticide Application) advises using low-pressure settings (typically under 50 psi) for indoor crack-and-crevice or spot treatments. Option A (high pressure) and Option B (power sprayer and high) are more suited for outdoor or large-scale applications, not indoor household pest control.

NEW QUESTION # 18

The EPA approves the label for a pesticide. The State of New Jersey:

- A. Can modify a pesticide's use allowing for additional uses or higher rates of application
- B. Cannot change the use thereof in any way
- C. Can put additional restrictions on the way it can be used

Answer: C

Explanation:

The EPA approves pesticide labels under FIFRA, setting federal standards for use. However, states like New Jersey have the authority to impose stricter regulations if needed to protect local environments or public health. According to NJDEP Pesticide Control Program guidelines, the state can add restrictions, such as limiting application rates, requiring additional safety measures, or restricting use in certain areas (e.g., near schools or water bodies). Option A is incorrect because states can impose additional rules. Option B is incorrect because states cannot expand uses or increase rates beyond the EPA-approved label without a special local need (SLN) registration under Section 24(c) of FIFRA, which is not the same as a general modification. Option C aligns with New Jersey's authority to enforce stricter standards.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Bedbugs go through:

- A. Gradual metamorphosis (nymphs similar to adult stage)
- B. Just two stages (egg and adult)
- C. Four distinct stages of development (egg, larva, pupa, and adult)

Answer: A

Explanation:

Bedbugs undergo gradual metamorphosis, also known as incomplete metamorphosis, which includes three stages: egg, nymph, and adult. Nymphs resemble smaller versions of adults and go through several molts before reaching maturity. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 7: Bedbugs) confirms this life cycle. Option A (four stages: egg, larva, pupa, adult) describes complete metamorphosis, typical of insects like beetles, not bedbugs. Option C (two stages) is incorrect, as nymph stages are a critical part of bedbug development.

NEW QUESTION # 20

___ sprayer is suggested for use in cracks and crevices.

- A. Cold fogger
- B. Thermal fogger
- C. Handheld compressed air

Answer: C

Explanation:

For cracks and crevices, a handheld compressed air sprayer is recommended because it allows precise application of pesticide into small, hard-to-reach areas where pests like roaches and ants hide. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 5: Pesticide Application) notes that these sprayers are ideal for targeted treatments in household pest control.

Option B (cold fogger) and Option C (thermal fogger) are used for larger areas or space treatments, not precise crack-and-crevice applications.
