NEW QUESTION # 173

A company uses Dynamics 365 Supply Chain Management.

The company wants to use the distributed hybrid topology model to alleviate performance issues at some of its distribution centers. The company has a manufacturing plant, PlantA, which resides at the same physical location as the company home office in Frankfurt Germany.

The company has the following distribution locations:

- * Distribution1 covers Ireland.
- * Distribute covers the United Kingdom
- * Distribution covers Belgium Germany, and the Netherlands
- * Distribution5 covers the Shetland islands.

All distribution warehouses use Dynamic 365 Supply Chain Management to receive and distribute goods from PlantA.

Warehouse personal use the warehouse app to perform their job function. Because of their proximity to each other, Distribution1, 2, and 3 are managed together and frequently transfer goods between each location.

Due to several connection issues with Dynamic 365 Supply Chain Management, the Shetland islands location struggles to perform tasks.

The company must maintain as little of its own IT infrastructure as possible, especially in remote areas, but still daily activities at all locations.

You need to recommend the appropriate topology configuration.
