NEW QUESTION # 20

Which phase of the project is the time to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support?

- A. Structure
- B. Timelines
- C. Milestones
- D. Benchmark

Answer: C

Explanation:

Milestones are important events in a project that mark the completion of a major deliverable or the achievement of a key goal. They are a good time to check in with employees and management to see how they are feeling about the project, and to get their feedback on how things are going. This is also a good time to reinforce the importance of the project and to get everyone re-committed to its success.

The other three options are not as good times to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support. Timelines are important, but they are not as important as milestones in terms of getting people's attention. Benchmarks are useful for tracking progress, but they are not as good for getting people's buy-in.

Structure is important for organizing a project, but it is not as important as milestones for motivating people.

So, the answer to the question is that the milestones phase of the project is the time to maximize on the employees' new awareness and management support.

Here are some specific things that you can do at the milestones phase to maximize on employee awareness and management support:

- * Hold a team meeting to celebrate the milestone and to discuss the next steps.
- * Send out a communication to all employees and managers, highlighting the milestone and thanking everyone for their hard work.
- * Meet with management to discuss the project's progress and to get their feedback.
- * Use the milestone as an opportunity to reinforce the importance of the project and to get everyone re-committed to its success.
