NEW QUESTION # 71

You need to define the data types for the fields of the N on-conformity table.

Which two data types should you use? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

- A. Char for the Non-Conformity Number field
- B. Date for the Non-Conformity Date field
- C. Date Time for the Non-Conformity Date field
- D. Integer for the N on-conformity Number field
- E. Code for the Non-Conformity Number field

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

In Business Central, fields in tables are assigned specific data types that determine the kind of data they can store. For the Non-conformity table mentioned in the case study, the following data types should be used:

Date for the Non-Conformity Date field: This is because the Non-conformity Date field is required to store only the date when the non-conformity was recorded. The Date data type is appropriate for storing dates without times.

Code for the Non-Conformity Number field: The Non-conformity Number field is described to use alphanumeric values with a format that includes "NC" and the year, like "NC24-001". In Business Central, the Code data type is used for fields that store alphanumeric keys. It is a text field with a limited length, which makes it suitable for number series that contain letters and numbers. Other options are not suitable:

A) Integer for the Non-conformity Number field: This would not be appropriate because the Non-conformity Number includes alphanumeric characters and not just integers.

B) DateTime for the Non-Conformity Date field: This is not correct because there is no requirement to store the time alongside the date.

C) Char for the Non-Conformity Number field: Char data type is not typically used in Business Central for number series or identifiers. The Code data type is preferred for this purpose.

NEW QUESTION # 72

A company plans to meet new regulatory requirements.

The regulator has issued new tax tiers.

You need to update the base application table by using a table extension.

Which table field property can you change?

- A. DecimalPlaces
- B. CalcFormula
- C. BlankZero
- D. AutoFormatType

Answer: A

Explanation:

When updating the base application table using a table extension in Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, certain properties of table fields can be modified to meet new requirements, such as regulatory changes. The DecimalPlaces property (B) is one such property that can be adjusted in a table extension. This property determines the number of decimal places that are displayed and stored for decimal fields in the table. Adjusting the DecimalPlaces property can be particularly useful when dealing with financial data and tax calculations that require precision to meet new tax tiers set by a regulator. It's important to note that not all properties can be modified in a table extension; for example, the CalcFormula property (A) cannot be changed as it affects how the field's value is calculated, which could have significant implications on the base application's logic.
