Answer: A

Explanation:

NEW QUESTION # 83
What are valid ITSI Glass Table editor capabilities? (Choose all that apply.)

- A. Service swapping configuration.
- B. Correlation search creation.
- C. Creating glass tables.
- D. Adding KPI metric lanes to glass tables.

Answer: A,C,D

Explanation:
Create a glass table to visualize and monitor the interrelationships and dependencies across your IT and business services.
The service swapping settings are saved and apply the next time you open the glass table.
You can add metrics like KPIs, ad hoc searches, and service health scores that update in real time against a background that you design. Glass tables show real-time data generated by KPIs and services.
Reference: https://docs.splunk.com/Documentation/ITSI/4.10.2/SI/GTOverview The glass table editor is a tool that allows you to create and edit glass tables in ITSI. Some of the capabilities of the glass table editor are:
Creating glass tables from scratch or from existing templates.
Configuring service swapping on widgets to toggle displaying metrics from different services.
Adding KPI metric lanes to glass tables to show historical trends of KPI values.
The glass table editor does not support correlation search creation, which is a separate feature in ITSI that allows you to create searches that look for relationships between data points and generate notable events.

NEW QUESTION # 84
Which of the following best describes a default deep dive?

- A. It initially shows all the entity swim lanes.
- B. It initially shows the health scores for all services.
- C. It initially shows all of the KPIs for a selected service.
- D. It initially shows the highest importance KPIs.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Reference: https://docs.splunk.com/Documentation/ITSI/4.10.2/SI/DeepDives C is the correct answer because a default deep dive initially shows all of the KPIs for a selected service. You can create a default deep dive by drilling down from another dashboard or by selecting a service from the deep dive lister page. A default deep dive does not show health scores, importance scores, or entity swim lanes by default. References: [Create default deep dives for services in ITSI]

NEW QUESTION # 85

What is the default importance value for dependent services' health scores?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. Unassigned
- D. 2

Answer: A

Explanation:
By default, impacting service health scores have an importance value of 11.
Reference: https://docs.splunk.com/Documentation/ITSI/4.10.2/SI/Dependencies A service template is a predefined set of KPIs and entity rules that you can apply to a service or a group of services. A service template helps you standardize the configuration and monitoring of similar services across your IT environment. A service template can also include dependent services, which are services that are required for another service to function properly. For example, a web server service might depend on a database service and a network service. The default importance value for dependent services' health scores is:
D). 10. This is true because the importance value indicates how much a dependent service contributes to the health score of the parent service. The default value is 10, which means that the dependent service has the highest impact on the parent service's health score. You can change the importance value of a dependent service in the service template settings.
The other options are not correct because:
A). 11. This is not true because 11 is an invalid value for importance. The valid range is from 1 (lowest) to 10 (highest).
B). 1. This is not true because 1 is the lowest value for importance, not the default value. A value of 1 means that the dependent service has the lowest impact on the parent service's health score.
C). Unassigned. This is not true because every dependent service has an assigned importance value, which defaults to 10.

NEW QUESTION # 86

Which step is required to install ITSI on a single Search Head?

- A. Run splunk_apply shcluster-bundle
- B. Use the Splunk -> Manage Apps Dashboard to download and install.
- C. All of the above.
- D. Untar the ITSI package in <splunk home>/etc/apps

Answer: B

Explanation:
To install Splunk IT Service Intelligence (ITSI) on a single Search Head, one of the straightforward methods is to use the Splunk Web interface, specifically the "Manage Apps" dashboard, to download and install ITSI. This method is user-friendly and does not require manual file handling or command-line operations. By navigating to "Manage Apps" in the Splunk Web interface, users can find ITSI in the app repository or upload the ITSI installation package if it has been downloaded previously. From there, the installation process is initiated through the Splunk Web interface, simplifying the setup process. This approach ensures that the installation follows Splunk's standard app installation procedures, helping to avoid common installation errors and ensuring that ITSI is correctly integrated into the Splunk environment.
