NEW QUESTION # 32

Which of the following would prevent SAP from running a Post-Upgrade Test (PUT) on a customer's behalf?

Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. An execution variant has not been maintained.
- B. Data marked for deletion is picked for execution.
- C. The test process failed the execution pre-check.
- D. The process steps have been reordered.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Post-Upgrade Tests (PUT) are automated tests conducted by SAP after a release upgrade in SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition to ensure system stability and functionality. Certain conditions can prevent SAP from executing these tests on the customer's behalf, as they require specific prerequisites to be met.

* Option A: The process steps have been reordered. Incorrect. Reordering process steps may affect business processes but does not inherently prevent SAP from running PUT. The SAP S/4HANA Cloud Testing Guide states, "Post-Upgrade Tests focus on standard functionality and are not impacted by custom process step reordering, provided the core system configuration remains intact."

* Option B: The test process failed the execution pre-check. Correct. The execution pre-check validates whether the system is ready for PUT, including system configuration and data consistency. If the pre-check fails, SAP cannot proceed with the test. According to the SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition Implementation Guide, "A failed execution pre-check, such as missing configurations or system errors, will prevent SAP from initiating Post-Upgrade Tests."

* Option C: An execution variant has not been maintained. Correct. Execution variants define the scope and parameters for PUT, such as specific processes or data sets to test. Without a maintained execution variant, SAP cannot execute the test. The SAP Testing Documentation notes, "Maintaining an execution variant is a prerequisite for Post-Upgrade Tests, as it specifies the test scope and ensures accurate execution."

* Option D: Data marked for deletion is picked for execution. Incorrect. Data marked for deletion may cause issues in business processes but does not prevent PUT execution, as tests focus on standard functionality. The SAP S/4HANA Cloud Study Guide clarifies, "PUT focuses on validating system integrity post-upgrade, and data marked for deletion is typically excluded from test scenarios." Extract from Official Documentation:

* SAP S/4HANA Cloud Public Edition Implementation Guide (SAP Help Portal, <https://help.sap.com>):

"Post-Upgrade Tests require a successful execution pre-check to ensure system readiness. Additionally, execution variants must be maintained to define the test scope, without which SAP cannot proceed with automated testing."

* SAP Testing Documentation (SAP Help Portal): "The execution pre-check validates system prerequisites, and an execution variant specifies the test parameters. Failure to meet these conditions prevents Post-Upgrade Test execution." Additional Context:

PUT is part of SAP's commitment to maintaining system reliability in the cloud environment. The execution pre-check and variant maintenance are critical to ensure tests are relevant and executable, aligning with SAP's standardized testing framework. Customers must prepare their systems accordingly to enable SAP to perform these tests.
