NEW QUESTION # 32

A customer is using AEM on AMS as the central content provider for its omnichannel presence with more than 100+ authors working around the clock and 30+ concurrent authors. The customer is happy with the performance of the author server, but they have a critical requirement to guarantee no data loss and quick failover in the event of any author failure. Which deployment strategy would the AEM architect use for the author environment?

- A. Use multiple Oak instances with TarMk Farms
- B. Use multiple Oak instances with MongoMK
- C. Use single Oak instance with a cold standby
- D. Use single Oak instance with regular AMS backups

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 33

In a client's test environment AEM QA Testers from multiple groups and regions are testing and making requests to the AEM application. Due to the sheer number of hosts making connections, an Architect needs a quick and easy way to allow any hosts to make requests to the AEM application.

Which approach should the Architect take to meet this requirement for this non-production environment?

- A. Enable Allow Empty in the Apache Sling Referrer OSGi Configuration
- B. Restrict Clients that can flush the cache in the Dispatcher Configuration
- C. Add GET as a Filter Method in the Apache Sling Referrer OSGi Configuration
- D. Use Allowlists instead of Blocklists in the Dispatcher Configuration

Answer: A

Explanation:

"enabling Allow Empty in the Apache Sling Referrer OSGi Configuration can allow any hosts to make requests to the AEM application without checking the referrer header".

NEW QUESTION # 34

A large AEM enterprise site is implementing authentication and requires a true optimal load balancing across the site's multi AEM publish instances. Which approach should an Architect take to meet this requirement?

- A. Enable Round Robin processing in Dispatcher configuration
- B. Configure Sticky Connections
- C. Enable Encapsulated Token Option
- D. Configure the Dispatcher to run with a Dedicated System User

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 35

AEM Site users report that the web content pages render very slowly. An Architect notices that the CPU usages of the AEM Publish instances are spiking and reviews the following entry in the log:

[Frt Nov 27 23:11:00 2019] [I] [pid 16004 (tid 140134145820416)] Current cache hit ratio: 47.94 % What should the Architect do to increase the dispatcher cache ratio and prevent the AEM Publish CPU usage spikes?

- A. Add additional AEM instances to the Publish Farm
- B. Create a cron job that will delete the dispatcher cache on a regular basis
- C. Review and optimize the Dispatcher cache configuration
- D. Add additional dispatcher servers

Answer: C

Explanation:

According to Adobe Experience Manager documentation<sup>5</sup>, dispatcher is a caching and load balancing tool that can be used to improve performance and security of AEM sites. Dispatcher cache configuration can be adjusted using various properties in the dispatcher.any file<sup>6</sup>. Creating a cron job that will delete the dispatcher cache on a regular basis is not a good idea as it will reduce the cache hit ratio and increase the load on AEM servers.

- A. Enable Allow Empty in the Apache Sling Referrer OSGi Configuration
- B. Add GET as a Filter Method in the Apache Sling Referrer OSGi Configuration
